OCTOBER WEDDINGS

Foss-Chase

A pretty home wedding took place Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Chase on Paris street, when their eldest daughter, Bessie Lincoln Chase was united in marriage to Oliver Johnson Foss in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends.

The ceremony took place in the parlor under a canopy of autumn flowers. The house was prettily decorated with the autumn shades and fall flowers.

The bride was handsomely gowned in a dress of white crepe de chine and wore a veil of tulle caught with white star flowers and carried a bouquet of white bridal roses. The bridesmaid was Josephine Chase, a sister of the bride, who wore a dress of copenhagen blue silk and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The best man was Lewis Fogg. Daisy Chase played Mendelssohn's wedding march. Gwendolyn Bartlett, a niece of the bride groom, acted as ring bearer. The ushers were Ora Thing of Portland and Mae Downing of Norway.

Following the ceremony a reception was held from 2 to 3:30, to which a large number of their friends were present. Refreshments of punch, fancy crackers and cookies were served by Mrs. Henry Russell, Ruth Carroll, Marion Bradbury and Beatrice Gammon.

Mr. and Mrs. Foss were the recipients of a large number of wedding gifts which were in charge of Marion Andrews and Blanche Lane. The wedding cake, which was made by Mrs. Percy Nevers, was served by Mrs. Horace Sanborn, assisted by Nellie Drummery.

Mrs. Foss has been a resident of Norway since early childhood and attended the public schools, graduating in the class of 1907 and since then she has been employed in the office of B. F. Spinney Shoe Co. and the Carroll-Jellerson Shoe Co. She has been a prominent worker at the Second Congregational church of which she is a member. She is also a member of the Mt. Hope Rebekah Lodge.

Mr. Foss is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Foss of Leeds and for the past year has been employed at the Norway Grand Trunk station.

Mr. and Mrs. Foss left the latter part of the afternoon amid a shower of confetti and rice, to parts unknown. They will make their home with the bride's mother, Mrs. Harry G. Chase.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mrs. Vesta T. Foss from North Leeds; Mrs. King Bartlett and daughter, Gwendolyn, of Locke's Mills; Edwin R. Berry and daughter of West Paris, Lester Maxwell of Bridgton, Mrs. Carroll Bragdon of Monmouth, who will be remembered as Miss Susie Kelley, formerly of Norway and Myrtle Haskell of Auburn.

Rich-Wood

On Wednesday evening, October 4th occurred the wedding of Gladys S. Wood and Owen Darton Rich, both of Norway at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Seavey on Beal street.

The ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock by Rev. Robert J. Bruce, pastor of the Congregational church. The bride was prettily attired in a dress of white silk with white silk net overdress. She wore a veil of white tulle. Her traveling dress was of navy blue.

The bride's maid was Edith Briggs, a friend of the bride, who wore a gown of white voile. The best man was Herbert Rich, Jr.; a brother of the groom. The ceremony took place under an arch from which was suspended a wedding bell in green and white, which was the color scheme throughout the house.

Following the wedding a reception was held from 7:30 until 10, attended by a large number of friends. The ushers were Gladys Spiller of South Paris and Ruby Bethell of Norway.

The refreshments included punch, fancy cookies and crackers, chocolates, salted nuts and wedding cake, which were served by Mrs. P. H. Nevers, Winnifred McKeen Mrs. Loise Hunt, Mrs. Henry Russell, Marion Bradbury and Ethelyn Lasselle.

Mrs. Rich is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Seavey and has resided in the village for the past few years and has made many friends. She has been employed at the shoe factory for the past few years.

Mr. Rich is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Rich and has always lived in town. He is employed at the Carroll, Jellerson Shoe Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Rich received a variety of wedding gifts, including silver, linen and cut glass.

Fall Shower

A pretty fall shower took place Friday evening at the home of Mildred J. Holmes on Main street, in honor of Bessie L. Chase.

Miss Chase had been invited to attend a committee meeting at Miss Holmes' that evening and after the meeting Miss Chase was escorted to the living room, where were assembled a large number of the ladies of the Congregational church and a few invited friends. The table in the center of the room was piled high with gifts which on being undone, brought forth many pretty and useful articles, many of which contained a verse.

The decorations in the dining room were in pink and white where refreshments of sandwiches, salads, coffee and cocoa were served by Genevieve Barker, Mildred Holmes and Mrs. R. J. Bruce.

In the center of the table was a cake for the bride-to-be. Laurestine Foster found the ring, Mrs. H. B. Foster the thimble, Mrs. G. F. Stone the button, and Genevieve Barker the penny. A very pleasant evening was enjoyed and the party left at a late hour, extending congratulations to Miss Chase for a very happy future.

Lewis I. Gilbert has traded his old auto toward a new Ford, which he expects will be in running order within a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Don J. Whitney and young son, who have been spending the summer at Old Orchard, are now making an extended visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hibbard.

Judge A. E. Herrick of Bethel was in town on business Wednesday.

Edith Knight and Elizabeth McCreery were the guests of several pupils at C. F. Ridlon's cottage from Friday afternoon until Sunday evening.

The Steam Road Maker.

After a long delay, business is booming again on the new Main street.

The large power concrete mixer that has been idle near the depot during the summer, was steamed up Saturday and nosed its way—like the much advertised British "Tank" war engine—up Danforth to Main street. Monday morning the boiler was again fired up and the mixer moved into a position opposite C. F. Ridlon's store, directly on the electric car track, where the work of filling in between the rails and 18 inches on each side began.

As is customary on such occasions a crowd of local bosses and advisors gathered about the crew to offer assistance from the sidelines or render valuable aid as sidewalk observers.

This six ton machine consists of an upright boiler, an engine, a rotary mixer with a lifting scoop and tripping device all mounted on a steel body with heavy iron wheels. The whole thing is movable under its own power when clutches are thrown into place.

The work of laying the material in place is comparatively simple for the coarse crushed rock is wheeled to a scoop then hoisted into the mixer, where cement and water wet up the stone, and the mass is then dumped wherever needed. A finer material is afterward used and the whole substance leveled to the rail face and a channel made for the wheel flange.

Several local workmen are doing the shovelling and barrow pushing, L. I. Hamor, Freeman Smith, C. M. Willey and B. E. Whitney are operating the machine.

Arab Patrol of Kora Temple.

The Arab Patrol of Kara Temple will give an exhibition drill and ball in Norway Opera House Thursday evening, October 12.

This crack company of well drilled Arabs have been favorably received in many large cities and will give the local public an exhibition in no wise inferior to that shown in larger towns.

Frank Kimball will direct the orchestra and furnish music for a concert from 8 to 8:30; a drill from 8:30 to 9, then the ball after that hour. Noble C. S. Akers will be the ball director, Aids, Nobles George A. Ricker, Charles Ricker, South Poland; Walter Gray, Dr. Stewart, South Paris; Will Bumpus, Mechanic Falls; Fred Edwards, Bethel; Capt. Chas. Jumper, George V. Turgeon, Dana S. Williams, O. D. Bliss, Lewiston; John Webber, Ralph Burnham, W. E. Webber, M. D., Auburn; Perry J. Murphy, Bridgton; Hon. A. J. Stearns, Howard Young, L. M. Carroll, Norway.

Large Attendance Rally Day.

The Rally services at the Congregational church were largely attended Sunday. The auditorium at the morning service was well filled. The pastor, Rev. R. J. Bruce, delivered a sermon on "The Standards of Christian Living" and special music was rendered by the choir.

At the Sunday School session there were 219 in attendance. Instead of the usual speeches by various officers, a temperance pageant was presented with responses from the classes of the school, with songs by the congregation and a solo by Alice Barden.

At the evening service the auditorium was filled to witness the motion pictures of the famous book, Bunyon's Pilgrim's Progress. The story of the book opens with the home scene of John Bunyon, then the gambling den and finally his conversion, then as a prisoner in the cell when he has a vision of a Christian's journey through life. The pictures showed in an interesting way the scenes as portrayed in the book.

Rally Day at Methodist Church

The Methodist Church will observe Sunday, October 8th, as Rally Day in all the departments of Church work.

A very interesting program has been arranged covering all the services of the day. Beautiful decorations, delightful music, special features for each service will be introduced.

At the morning service the pastor, Rev. H. L. Nichols, will preach a five minute object sermon to the children as a prelude to the regular sermon. It is hoped that every member, attendant and friend of the church will make an effort to be present at this service.

The following program will be given at the Sunday School hour, at 11:45. Kimball's eight-piece orchestra will be a special feature:

Opening exercise Entire School
Ten minutes lesson study.
Greeting song Primary children
Orchestra selection.
Welcome Wilma Calef
Solo O. P. Brooks
Recitation Edith Joslin
Orchestra selection.
Recitation Lawrence Cushman
Reading Mrs. Nichol
Solo Helen Dunn
Recitation Merton Berry
Closing recitation Ruth Kilgore
Orchestra selection.
Benediction Pastor

The Junior Epworth League will convene at 3 o'clock for the first time since the vacation period for their rallying services.

At 6 o'clock the Epworth League will hold a rousing rally in the vestry to inaugurate an extensive campaign for the fall and winter months.

At 7 o'clock in the evening Rev. A. T. McWhorter of the Congregational Church of South Paris, will be the speaker, giving his stirring address on, "The Ruts in the Road."

Visitors will be heartily welcomed at all of these services.

The Annual Convocation of Oxford Chapter, No. 29, will be held in Mason's Hall, Wednesday, October 11, at 7:30 p. m. The business will include the reading of the reports, election of officers and committee of finance with work in the M. M. M. degree.

Grace Stanley of East Waterford has been visiting her sister Mrs. James Cleveland.

Thomas Raymond spent Sunday in Portland.

D. L. Joslin has finished work in Auburn and is now working in the cutting room of the Carroll-Jellerson Shoe Company.

After spending five weeks at his home on Crescent street, George P. Downing has resumed work at Auburn.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Lovejoy were in Bethel over Sunday visiting relatives on Paradise street.

The Infantile Paralysis Case.

Three weeks ago the people in Norway and South Paris were given a shock when it was reported that a case of infantile paralysis had been discovered in the family of E. H. Mosher on Alpine street. The local physicians of both villages were called to the case but nothing certain could be gained from the diagnosis. Dr. Edwin Gehring of Portland, a specialist, also examined the patient thoroughly and in a final analysis the trouble was considered a mild form of the disease. This resulted in a quarantine and the delay of one week in the opening of the Paris schools as a precautionary measure.

Norway assisted the Health Board, by barring three children from the schools for two weeks, who lived near the patient. No new cases have developed in either town to date and the danger of a general infection seems far removed.

Hazel Mosher, the patient, is today, from all appearances, a perfectly normal child and very active; engaging in and enjoying all the life any two and a half year old youngster can in the large yard where she skips and plays without the least inconvenience. There appears to be no lameness or physical deformity as one would suppose, neither would an observer discover any mental disorder if alertness and free bodily movements are sign boards. Let us trust that medical skill and good care has arrested the dreaded malady in this instance, so the parents can receive their own in health and youthful happiness.

Lake Temple Entertain

The district convention of Pythian Sisters held their meeting in the Knights of Pythias hall, Norway, Tuesday evening, October 3, and were royally entertained by the members of Lake Temple.

Representatives of Craigie Temple, Oxford; Hamlin Temple of South Paris and the Minnehaha Temple of Stoneham with several visitors from Bridgton and Hanover gave the Grand Most Excellent Chief, Jennie Fickett of Woodfords, a cordial greeting.

Lake Temple occupied the chairs at the opening of the meeting and participated in the ritual work. Hamlin Temple rank team exemplified the floor work in a satisfactory manner.

An address of welcome was given by Mrs. Martina Richardson and responded to by Mrs. Farris of Craigie Temple.

Refreshments were served to more than one hundred sisters and "a splendid meeting" is the verdict of all.

Womans Relief Corps Notes

The regular meeting of the corps will be held in Woodman Hall this Thursday evening, October 5 at 7:30. Rehearsal of the ritual work will be in order for the annual inspection is soon to come.

W. R. C., No. 45, will have a harvest dinner, apron and home made candy sale in Grange hall, October 11. The dinner will be served promptly at noon and the sale follows. All of the proceeds are for the Soldiers' monument fund. Mrs. Lizzie Sampson is chairman.

An invitation has been received from the T. A. Roberts Post and Corps of Oxford to attend a campfire, Saturday, October 7.

Warner Box Company is now well located in the building on Greenleaf avenue once used in connection with the Geo. Austin machine shop. L. B. Warner is general manager and young Emery Warner, a lad of seven assists his father, when not in school. At present the company are employing ten people with good business prospects ahead. The sharp advance of box and other paper hits the trade hard, but the company have been able to fill their orders promptly thus far. Mr. Warner mentions the fact that every machine he is using was invented and built by Clarence W. Hobbs, a former Norway boy, now of the Hobbs Manufacturing Co. of Worcester, Mass., and editor of the Paper Box Journal.

Joesph Crooker, who had the misfortune to break his shoulder blade in a scuffle three weeks ago, reports that the healing process is coming along nicely and will be able to get back into the shoe factory in a short time.

Arthur MacLean has closed his cottages at Lake Pennesseewassee for the summer and left town Wednesday for a winter sojourn in the South. He will visit his sister, Mrs. Alfred Walsh, of Brookline, Mass., while on the return trip.

Ella Chandler of East Deering, a former resident of Norway, is visiting Mrs. Hattie Small for about 10 days. Mark M. Chandler, her father, was for many years station agent at the Norway station.

The lower Cummings mill pond was drained early in the week and a new water pipe laid across the stream.

Eugene O. Russell, a former Norway boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Elmer Russell, was united in marriage to Bertha Brooks of Yarmouth, Sept. 30. Mr. Russell has been in charge of the Portland and Brunswick Railway waiting room at Yarmouth for a number of years and there made a host of friends. The couple will reside in Yarmouth.

Mrs. James Boise and Mrs. A. F. Morgan of Bethel were intown Tuesday. These two families comtemplate moving to South Paris as Mr. Morgan and Mr. Boise have employment with the Paris Mrg. Co.

Main street is again closed to the electric cars. The run ends at C. F. Ridlon's store. Road traffic is also suspended from Danforth street to the Beal Tavern.

On Thursday evening a number of Wild Cats and Mr. and Mrs. James N. Tubbs entertained the Parish Club of the Congregational church at the Barker Farm. A fine oyster stew supper was served with sandwiches, pies, cakes, doughnuts, cheese, hot coffee, and celery, to which the twenty-one who were present did justice. A pleasant social evening was enjoyed with games.

Roland Kimball of Farmington, N. H., came home Monday to spend a week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kimball. Tuesday morning Mrs. Kimball and Roland started for Woodsville, N. H., after receiving word of the death of Mrs. Chester Abbott, who was killed in an automobile accident. Mr. and Mrs. Abbott have been frequent visitors at the Kimball's.

Harold Thayer who has been suffering with water on the knee and rheumatism, is spending a week at his home at South Paris.

James Danforth

The community was shocked Wednesday morning to learn of the sudden death of James Danforth, which occurred Tuesday evening, Oct. 3, in his late home on Deering street.

He was born in Norway, October 10, 1839, being the son of the late Dr. Asa, and Abigail (Reed) Danforth. His early life was spent in the town of his birth and here he received his education.

Mr. Danforth had been married twice. The first union being with the late Mary L. Haskell, daughter of C. H. and Laura Haskell of Norway. About this time the couple moved to Oxford and occupied a farm for several years, but finally gave up the place and returned to their home town and again engaged in agriculture.

Four children blessed this union, Prof. Charles Haskell Danforth of St. Louis, a well known teacher in Washington University; Annie Danforth Masseck, Sarah Danforth Avery and Francis Asa Danforth, druggist, all of St. Louis.

Several years ago Mr. Danforth moved his family into the village and has continued as a farmer in a limited way to the time of his death. On October 26, 1904, he married Mrs. Alice Kimball Woodsum and they occupied the well known Haskell homestead near the Universalist church on Main street for a number of years.

The deceased was a Universalist in religious belief and a constant attendant at the church services. His politics were republican, but not partisan. He was a Mason, having joined the order June 26, 1871 and the Chapter several years later, he was also a member of the Grand Army, serving in the war with Company H, 23rd Maine Regiment, during the years 1862-3.

Rev. Chester Gore Miller of South Paris will conduct the services Friday, October 6th at one o'clock from his late residence on Deering street. Interment will be at Pine Grove Cemetery. The widow, four children and a brother, Francis A. Danforth, are left to mourn the loss of a kind husband, an indulgent father and a true brother.

The Oxford Electric Co. started on the new dam at Hobbs Pond last Tuesday. High water last spring carried the old structure away and nothing was done during the summer to repair the trouble. The new dam will be 30 feet long, 9 feet high and made mostly of wood, with the usual gate and spillway. Supt. Howard Young has charge of the work and local men as helpers.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Pettingill, Mr. and Mrs. Warren McAllister, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Morgan were members of an auto party that attended Union Square Theatre in Lewiston recently.

G. Fred Stone is having a cement chimney built on the outside of his residence on Main street.

Edith Sadleir has returned to Island Pond, Vt., after a visit of four weeks with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Swett.

E. C. Parker, sub-master at Norway High, spent the week end at Rumford.

Erland Pettingill picked a large bunch of dandelion blossoms in Lynchville Saturday. The little fellow was proud of his find and considered it worth while to mention it in the Advertiser.

George A. Borneman is putting a new coat of paint on the "Bassett Store" front. Arthur Buswell is fixing things up inside and arranging his shoe stock for an opening later.

Mrs. Horace Cole has been entertaining a number of friends from New York. The party included Miss E. M. Hofer, Miss M. S. Williams, Miss Elizabeth Plunkett, Mary Ufford, Miss Duffield and Mina Jewett, a trained nurse.

The many friends of Mrs. Wilfred Parker of North Chesterville were in town a short time Saturday, calling upon Mrs. Ella Jewett Colt.

Business in the W. F. Tubbs Snowshoe factory is booming. The work is several weeks behind now and orders are constantly coming in. A new feature this year is the making of Northland skis of ash and hard pine for the company have had a general call for this kind of winter goods.

Herman Richardson is having his vacation from the E. B. Jackson's Meat Market. Mr. Richardson and wife are visiting Mrs. Richardson's parents at Mechanic Falls, also Mr. Richardson's grandfather, E. T. Verrill, at Freeport. A. J. Richardson is taking Herman Richardson's place at the Jackson Meat Market during his vacation.

The members of the Freshman class of the Norway High School enjoyed an outing Friday evening at Sand Pond where supper was served after which they went to the Ridlon cottage at Lake Pennesseewassee and remained until Sunday night with the party camping there.

L. M. Carroll, E. M. Carroll, C. Frank Cook, and Jack Ledger while on their way from Waterville the first of the week came near meeting with a serious accident. While in Greene they met an auto coming at a fast rate of speed and to avoid collision Mr. Ledger turned into a field, hitting a stonewall. All four were thrown out, but uninjured.

There were a large number of Norway people who attended the World's Fair at North Waterford, Saturday.

Mrs. Augusta Kneeland and daughter Beulah, after spending several weeks at their home on Alpine street, returned to Augusta Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. G. Blake, Mrs. Cyrus S. Tucker and Carrie Tucker enjoyed a trip of 220 miles around the mountains the first of the week. Ray Farrar of So. Paris was chauffeur.

Mrs. Clark G. True with her two sons, Clark Jr. and Stanley, returned to her home in New York, Tuesday, after spending the summer in Norway and Bridgton.

Mrs. W. S. Pratt is attending the State Baptist Convention at Portland. She is a delegate from the Norway Baptist church.

Porter Seavey was on the street, Wednesday, running down Mexicans with an old fashioned single barrel musket, probably dating back seventy-five years. At one time the gun had carried a flint lock, but was afterward changed to the hammer and cap style. This firearm has seen considerable service, for the stock and brass mountings are worn smooth; the 4 foot barrel is thin and wire has been freely used on several places. Porter intends to keep this only for display.

Mr. and Mrs. John O'Connell, (nee Mrs. Lizzie Harmon) of Foxboro, Mass., spent the week-end with R. O. Porter.

Dr. Harry Nevers of Lawrence, Mass., the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Nevers of Norway, is stationed at Fort Bliss, El Pasco, Texas, and is head medical man with the First Massachusetts Field Artillery. The doctor has practised in Lawrence during the past ten years and in that time has won considerable distinction. He is city bacteriologist; one of the staff of the Lawrence Hospital and chief surgeon for a large textil corporation. Before graduating from the Bowdoin Medical School, Dr. Nevers was one of the most widely known ball players in the state, having jumped from the Norway High team into the fast semi-professional ball team thence to the New England League where he made good, leaving the game only to take up a life work in his chosen profession.

That magnificent display of northern lights early Saturday evening, attracted considerable attention. A double arch extended from the Pleiades in the east to the constulation Coronis in the west, with fringing streamers of pale green flashing upward beyond the pole star, Polaris, into the zenith. A bank of dark clouds on the northern horizon added to the beauty of this natural phenomena.

Ella Chandler of Westbrook was a guest of Hattie Small from Saturday until Monday.

James N. Marshall, the local agent for the Singer Sewing Machine Company, was in Lewiston on business Monday and Tuesday.

Nash of Maine had had a busy season thus far. The mounting of fish during the summer has Waldo and Ray on the move, and at present, two large black bear pelts—one from Wilson's Mills and another from Stowe—keep the taxidermists busily engaged. In a very short time deer will be coming along a plenty.

Mrs. Frank D. Briggs, Cottage street, will take Mrs. William Twombley into her home during the winter. Mrs. Twombley is nearly 80 years of age and will find a comfortable place with Mrs. Briggs.

Evelyn A. Chandler was in Bethel from Friday until Sunday visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Chandler.

Maude York of Damariscotta Mills, has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Albert P. Bassett.

The Fred Rowe place on Cottage street has been undergoing extensive repairs. Quinn Pratt and Horace Mixer are doing the work.

Mr. and Mrs. James N. Tubbs accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Homer Luck, enjoyed an auto trip the first of the week through Waterford, Bethel, Newry, Hanover and Rumford. The party had dinner at the William Holt's Camp, Howard Lake, which proved to be an ideal place at this season of the year.

Guy A. Buck has secured employment at the Tubbs Snow Shoe Factory.

W. Frank Gammon returned to work in the Mason Mfg. Co. factory last week.

Frank E. Pottle is able to be out again after a two weeks' attack of rheumatism. Mr. Pottle has been canvassing for a weekly magazine with good success.

Timothy Heath with a crew of men and cement mixer are laying the new sidewalk on upper Main street from the Advertiser office to the Primary schoolhouse. After this part is completed they will lay a walk on the opposite side from the Universalist parsonage to Whitman street. Jesse Brown, Archie Frechette and Alonzo Hall are Tim's helpers.

The last load of corn was hauled to the Norway factory Monday and the pack closed with about 300,000 cans. About 225 acres was signed but owing to the unfavorable conditions at planting time, not over 125 acres were used. The condition of Geo. Dunn's farm is a fair sample. He states that the amount of corn he picked from the five acres that he cultivated, could have under normal conditions been gathered from an acre and a half.

Mrs. Daisy Hartford and daughter Belle and Rae of Auburn were week end visitors at Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Gammon's.

Mr. and Mrs. John Woodman are on an auto trip around the White Mountains and other sections in New Hampshire. Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Willey of Biddeford accompanied them.

Edith Rideout returned from Rockland Wednesday morning. The schools in the city were scheduled to begin Monday, October 2, but owing to the developement of several new cases of infantile paralysis, they were indefinitely postponed. On the morning that school should have begun, one of the senior boys in the High School, Maurice Ames, died of the dreadful disease. This is one of the first cases to break out among older people, and has caused great consternation all over the city. Owing to the fact that school had not begun, the teachers and most of the pupils have not been exposed. Very strict quarantine is being maintained where there are cases or even where there has been exposure. All schools, theaters, ice cream parlors, and churches are absolutely closed, and the citizens are determined to take all possible precautions to prevent the farther spread of the disease. The death of Mr. Ames has cast a gloom over the city. He was an only child, a young man of great promise and of excellent character. He was a member of the senior class of the Rockland High School and of the school football team. As practice had begun, all the other members of this team are now under quarantine.

Go-to-Sunday-School day will be observed at the Congregational church on Sunday, October 8. There will be a graduation exercise, when the children in the Cradle Roll department, who have reached the age of four will receive diplomas and pass into the Junior Sunday School. The morning and evening services of the church will be held as usual.

Roland Mixer, who works for the Western Wholesale Company in Portland, is spending his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Mixer.

Walter Pride has been suffering with a wen on his neck.

The Barton Reading Club held its first meeting for the coming season with Mrs. George Brooks, Thursday afternoon. The evening was given up to business and to the relating of various vacation experiences. A neatly arranged Course of Study in booklet form covering the meetings from October 1916 to May 1917, has been issued by the club. The year's work will be current events, authors and magazine articles, with a roll call and quotations at least once each month.

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. will hold their meeting with Lelia Watson Wednesday, October 11 at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Eugene E. Andrews, Main St.

The pupils of Norway High School are preparing for the High School Fair, which will be held Friday, November 3.

A GOOD FRIEND

A good friend stands by you when in need. Norway people tell how Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test. Mr. Needham endorsed Doan's over seven years ago and again confirms the story. Could you ask for more convincing testimony?

Wm. O. Needham, retired farmer, Main St., Norway, says: "At different times, when I have taken cold, my kidneys have become affected. Several years ago when I felt that my kidneys needed a tonic, I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from F. P. Stone's Drug Store. They strengthened my kidneys, ridding my system of the excess of uric acid and in a short time I felt much better."

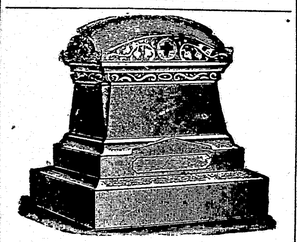

The above statement was given July 24, 1908 and on June 6, 1916, Mr. Needham said: "I can still endorse Doan's Kidney Pills and give you permission to continue using my recommendation. My confidence in them is as strong as ever. I occasionally use Doan's Kidney Pills when I feel in need of them and always get fine results."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Needham has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. 39-40

THE AUTOMOBILE.

Like an impatient fiery steed
The automobile stands,
Awaiting in its restlessness,
The chauffeur's commands.
Trembling with nervous energy
To serve the present hour,
It's deep volcanic mutterings
Reveals its hidden power.
When from its erksome bonds released,
Like a charger to the fray,
It leaves the spinning road behind,
On its swift and eager way.
Scorning fatigue, the hills ignore,
And treat with high disdain;
It measures distance with a smile,
Through valley and o'er plain.
The bantom roosters and stray cats
That often it doth meet,
It tramples, with all snarling curs,
'Neath its impatient feet.
And when it sounds its bleating horn,
Or blows its whistle shrill,
A warning to pedestrians
It's running at its will.
Then 'tis clear the track old crippled ho's
For I am running true;
The center road was built for me,
The ditch will do for you!
I s'pose you think you own the street,
And bank on past renown!
But things have changed since Hannah died,
I own the street and town!
And thus it be, full well I know,
You've fooled the people long;
And kept your slow and plodding pace
With all the passing throng.
But now your plodding days are o'er,
For you are surely beat.
Old rack-a-bones you're scarcely worth
The shoes upon your feet!
Wild eyed, the wondering steed replies,
Though, I my prestige yield,
This warning admonition give,
E'en as I quit the field,
For every dog shall have his day,
And times will surely be
When flying airships will mock you,
Alas! as you mock me.

P. B. Henley, Lovell.

THE CHEERING SMILE.

Laugh, and the world laughs with you,
Weep, and you weep alone.—Wilcox.
Why weep if your lot is grievious?
Weeping does not lessen pain.
Is your burden dragging heavy?
Smile, and lift it up again!
Smiles are gain, tears are vain,
Weeping comes when all of honor,
Every love and every joy
Vanish in a misty distance,
And all hope is base alloy.
Nay, then seek the fertile valley,
Not the fallow-sodden hill,
Weeping still brings cankering ill.
Many tears and hopeless grieving
Make no sorrow less severe,
But a calm undaunted spirit
Brings a holy presence near.
Brightly smile, for tears so futile
Bring no golden harvest gain,
But smile and 'twill return again.

Jennie E. Snow Kimball.

THE HARDEST BATTLE

Life's path is before you
Leading ever on,
And you must follow it
Through darkness and dawn.
You can't help yesterday,
But make this your day,
And life will be brighter
As you go your way.
Regrets for yesterday
Bring sadness and woe,
While hopes for tomorrow
Make life's journey slow;
Only fight for today
To do what is right.
And never lay down arms
'Til you win the fight.
The hardest of battles
Yea, the hardest fight,
Is held within thy self
With might against might.
If right is conqueror
Thou will be set free;
But if wrong doth conquer
Thou lose liberty.
If the soul does not tell
Which is wrong and right,
Then may God give pity
To those who must fight,
Should they lose freedom
Of peace and of love,
Will man forgive them
As God will above?

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

WATERFORD

Remember next Sunday is Go-to-Sunday-School Sunday in the state of Maine. Join the crowd and go and as Artemus would say, "You'll do a first rate thing for yourself and everybody else."

Rev. C. N. Davis of North Bridgton occupied the pulpit in exchange with the pastor Sunday morning, delivering an interesting sermon on "A Word Fitly Spoken."

The stores here will close on Tuesday and Friday evenings at 6:30 until further notice.

Charles Hamlin is confined to his bed with sickness at the present writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Morse were in Portland a couple days last week.

Mary Rounds left last Thursday to resume teaching in Milton, Mass.

Regular communication of Mt. Tir'em Lodge F. & A. M. next Tuesday evening, October 10.

Mabel Gage, Carrie L. Plummer, Mrs. F. B. Rounds and Mrs. W. W. Fillebrown took an auto trip to Tannworth, N. H., last Friday.

The Waterford Library Association held its annual meeting Monday in the Knight Library. The following officers were elected, Pres. Henrietta F. R. Moore; vice pres. Carrie F. Plummer; sec. G. W. Sias; Treasurer and Librarian Mrs. F. B. Rounds; Trustees, Mrs. S. S. Wilson, A. G. Morse, Susan H. Wilkins, L. R. Rounds, G. C. Wheeler. The reports showed the Association to be in a prosperous condition.

The Quimbys, the last of the summer guests to leave, closed camp Keoka on Wednesday.

Bad Colds from Little Sneezes Grow

Many colds that hang on all winter start with a sneeze, a sniffle, a sore throat, a tight chest. You know the symtoms of colds, and you know prompt treatment will break them up. SOUTH WATERFORD.

Bear Mountain Grange, No. 62 met in regular session Saturday evening, Sept. 30th. The attendance was small and there was no literary program. Some of the brothers and sisters were kept at home by illness. Doubtless the majority after enjoying the World's Fair, felt that the attractions of a plain grange meeting were too faint. The next meeting, October 14th.

BOLSTER'S MILLS

Mrs. Albert Lowell and her two children have returned to their home in Massachusetts.

Dr. Farris and wife and Charles Davis and wife of Oxford were in the place Sunday.

E. L. Gay and wife, Fannie Wight and Alice Gay of Casco have gone to C. Pond in Andover for a vacation and hunting trip.

A. W. Weston sent a consignment of live stock to market this week.

Mrs. Solomon Gay of Casco is stopping at the home of her son, E. L. Gay during his absence. George Skillings is tending the store, assisted by Etta Cobb.

A. P. Clark and wife of Bridgton called at A. F. Chute's Monday.

Elmer Cobb and son of Portland were at Irving Cobb's Sunday.

In the absence of Mr. Harrison Sunday, Mrs. Harrison occupied the pulpit and conducted the service, reading a brief sermon.

A. R. Clark was in Boston last week and stopped in Portland also.

Many from this place attended the Otisfield fair at Spurr's Corner last Wednesday and also the fair at Waterford Saturday.

Catherine Edwards was visited by her people from Cook's Mills last Sabbath.

PORTER.

Ellis Anderson and four daughters, Hattie, Edith, Nellie and Jessie, motored here from their home in Portland. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Moses J. Chapman over Sunday. While here, they visited Pine Grove and Elm Spring farms.

Mr. and Mrs. John Quint were guests of Irving Weeks and family at their farm on Norton Hill, Friday.

Mrs. Curtis Chapman and two children Gladys and Oliver, were on the sick list last week.

Henry Estes is helping Harry Mason.

Earl Norton and Perley Day are working on the state road at Kezar Falls.

Mrs. Oliver Robbins stayed at the Town Farm on Wednesday while Mr. and Mrs. Moses J. Chapman attended Fryeburg fair.

Samuel Watson was the guest of John Bradeen on Sunday.

Hanson L. Chapman has raised some mammouth sunflowers this year.

PARIS HILL

Archie H. Curtis was here last week and moved his family to South Paris, where the children are attending school.

James Thompson of Boston is the guest of his mother and sister, Mrs. J. N. Thompson and Mrs. George Lunt.

Ina Twitchell of Norton, Mass., was a recent guest at her brother's, Walter E. Twitchell's.

The Pine Tree Tea Room which was run by Mark P. Shaw during a part of the summer, was closed last week.

Jeannie Hubbard who has spent the summer with relatives here, returned to New York, Saturday.

Mrs. Ellen Jackson entertained a dinner party Tuesday, made up of O. A. Thayer and Mrs. John Pierce of this place and Mrs. A. L. Holmes and Mrs. Arthur E. Forbes of South Paris.

The Baptist Ladies' Circle will meet with the president, Mrs. Georgia Curtis, on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Business of importance will come before the meeting and a full attendance is desired.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cole are nearly settled in their new home and are receiving callers every day. It has been some time since a new house has been built on "The Hill" and is therefore quite an attraction. The location is fine, giving a nice view of south, east and west. Mr. Cole and Leon Maxim built the house without any aid of a carpenter.

Mrs. Newton Cummings with her scholars gave a corn roast Friday night, there were a number of invited guests. They all enjoyed the feast very much.

Mrs. Newton Cummings and Mrs. Berton Curtis sang a duet in church Sunday.

The Stone family cousin reunion which has come to be an annual affair, will be held this year at Academy Hall, Paris Hill, on Saturday, October 14. There is so large a number of the family and connections that the reunion has outgrown the capacity of a private house.

There will be no preaching at the Baptist church for the next three Sundays. There will be a session of the Sunday School at 12 o'clock.

The first Parent-Teachers meeting of the year will be held at the schoolhouse Monday evening, October 9. It is the election of officers and a good attendance is needed.

Mr. and Mrs. V. K. Parris have gone to Rockland for an indefinite time to visit relatives. Mrs. Parris is a "shut in" and we are all very glad to have her have this outing. Annie Parris is visiting at South Paris.

Mark Shaw carries the new scholars that go to South Paris High School, which are Glenn Ross, Abbie Bryant, Charles Hammond and Earle Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren of North Buckfield were evening callers at H. P. Hammond's Monday, October 2nd.

Mr. and Mrs. Albion Abbott went to Lewiston Sept. 24 for the day. They left the baby with its grandmother, Mrs. Frank Robbins.

Mrs. H. P. Hammond has returned home from her brother's, George A. Jackson's, being called there on account of the sickness and death of his wife, Mrs. Hilda Jackson, who died at Augusta, Sept. 9th. She leaves beside her husband, two children, Albert, aged 12 and Eva, 9 years. She was a true and devoted wife and mother and will be greatly missed in the home. Eva returned with her aunt, Mrs. Hammond, and will make her home there. Mr. Jackson and son Albert are getting along alone for the present.

Josephine Cole, who is teaching in Westbrook, was at home the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Cummings, Laura Maxim, Fannie Cole and Edith Pomeroy attended the World's fair at Waterford, Saturday.

G. W. Cole was in Portland, Monday.

The dance at Roscoe Slatting's new barn was well attended. There will be another one the 13th.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cole and Archie Cole of South Paris were at J. B. Cole's Sunday.

EAST GREENWOOD.

Maud S. Swan has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Lucy I. Curtis for a few days.

Pearley Doughty has got through work at South Paris and is stopping at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Estes, also Gladys Noyes of South Paris were at Cora Dougaty's, Sunday.

Will Yates has swapped his light auto for a larger one.

Mrs. Gertrude McAllister of South Paris visited her uncle, Will Yates, a few days last week.

A Lecture on Christian Science

By PROF. HERMAN S. HERING, C. S. B.

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The lecture on Christian Science given last Monday evening by Christian Science Society of Norway, Maine, in the Grange Hall, Norway, was very well attended. It is thought that next time a larger hall may be needed. The lecturer, Professor Herman S. Hering C. S. B., member of the Board of Lectureship of First Church of Christ Scientist in Boston, Mass., was introduced by Mr. Freeland Howe, junior who said:

As many of you know, I have had a considerable interest and experience in the natural sciences, so-called,—physics, chemistry, geology, botany, and zoology. The natural scientist seeks to discover and correlate facts so as to derive laws which will reveal the great scheme of the universe. My interest was the result of a desire to gain knowledge the better to live. I was so eager to learn that I spent years and much money in college, university, and business study. I have been on what is called the borderland of science where the knowledge of the so-called known stops.

Some of my friends have wondered why my interest in natural science has waned and why instead I have become interested in Christian Science, so I will give you the reason. I have come to see (as have many others) that where we have been seeking law in the realm of science there is no law; that in the physical sciences the conditions surrounding experiments are limited to human ingenuity, and that in the study of life we are limited and handicapped by our physical senses. I have further come to see that when with the help of Science and Health with Key to Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy we study the story of creation as told in Genesis and the other books of the Bible we learn that the realities of life are those things which in human existence seem unreal, and that the only real laws and realities are in the realm of the metaphysical—above the physical.

This is what recently I and many others by the study of Christian Science have come to understand to some extent, viz., that realities are not perceptible to the physical senses, and that the only satisfaction in life comes from studying and applying God's laws as revealed to us in the Bible, demonstrated by Christ Jesus, and explained by Mrs. Eddy in the Christian Science text-book.

Those of us in Norway and vicinity who have learned a little from this wonderful truth and who have derived great happiness from applying these laws as far as we yet understand them, have eagerly taken advantage of one of the privileges of the Christian Science organization and arranged for this lecture on Christian Science by a member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church in Boston. This Board of Lectureship was established for the purpose of giving authentic information about Christian Science by those who have made it a study and are authorized to explain it. This is only one of many avenues which have been lovingly provided for us in order that we may learn more of Christian Science.

Christ Jesus, the great physician, the divine healer, has for all time set the standard of perfect healing before humanity, and that many do not yet believe in his gospel results from a lack of understanding of the true nature and philosophy of the so-called miracles which he performed His ethical teachings are very generally accepted even by agnostics; although the spiritual records of the healing work as a part of his divine mission, meet with dissent from many of the cultured people of today.

The gospels record many instances of the healing of physical disease by Christ Jesus and his disciples; he restored a withered hand, he healed an impotent man and a man born blind; he healed paralysis, dropsy, hemorrhage, leprosy, epilepsy and violent insanity, and he raised the dead.

In St. Matthew we read:

"And Jesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people. And his fame went throughout all Syria: and they brought unto him all sick people that were taken with divers diseases and torments, and those which were possessed with devils, and those which were lunatick, and those that had the palsy; and he healed them."

"And, behold, there came a leper and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. And Jesus put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will; be thou clean. And immediately his leprosy was cleansed."

Furthermore he specifically commanded his disciples that they should continue his healing work, counseling them,

"And as ye go, preach, saying, The kingdom of heaven is at hand. Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils; freely ye have received, freely give."

"Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do, because I go unto my Father."

Peter, John, Philip, Paul and other followers healed paralysis, deformity, insanity, lameness, and also raised the dead, in connection with their missionary work; in fact healing was practiced quite generally among the early Christians.

SCRIPTURAL TEACHINGS NOT UNDERSTOOD

Many have always believed these teachings and works but they have not presumed to understand them, much less have they thought to even undertake to repeat them. They have accepted the Bible blindly and evidently have not practically apprehended its inspiring truth. From the inception of Christianity, however, some have striven to obey its teachings and to manifest the Christ spirit which brings salvation from both sickness and sin. This spirit was strongly in evidence in the healing works which characterized the early church, until the time when Christianity was engulfed in ritualism and formalism and its vital spirit was quenched.

Even a partial recognition of the demands made by the Master's teachings upon our life and conduct reveals their redemptive greatness and supreme importance, and these questions must appeal to every thoughtful Christian, viz., whether or not it is possible to obey these teachings; whether they are true or not; if not true, where is the basis of Christianity, and, if true, why are not their demands fulfilled? May it not be because they are not understood?

Many thinking people are beginning to see as they have not before that the healing work of the early church is possible today, although this healing work rebukes the generally accepted supremacy of material law. They perceive that there is such a thing as spiritual law, a law apart from physics, and begin to comprehend that this divine law is and should be sovereign over so-called physical law, that it has dominion over what is termed matter; and that in spite of the prevailing educational bias of materialistic thought which declares that any existence apart from the material cannot be conceived, it is high time that the church awakened out of its sleep and asserted its right to the freedom of the children of God. To the materially minded, matter and material law are supreme, and they have little belief in any power beyond and apart from physics and less understanding of it. Metaphysical power is thought of as belonging to the supernatural which the majority of intellectual people reject, associating it as they do with mysticism and superstition. Asserted believers in the Bible, however, cannot ignore the fact that Christian healing was accomplished in Jesus' time, by himself and by his disciples, and later by his followers for several centuries.

SCIENTIFIC BASIS OF HEALING

Admitting that this healing occurred, we can but see that it was affected through the operation of law, and that there must have been a Principle and a Science back of it. Moreover it is very evident that if these were known and applied today, the same healing effects would follow.

Non-believers in the Bible and in what are called miracles deny the possibility of spiritual power over material things because they do not understand spiritual law, the Principle and rule involved. Some good people believe that the spiritual healing of the early church was a mere phenomenal exhibition of divine or superhuman power, and therefore make no effort to relate spiritual power to present human needs. Could they but realize that there is a Principle underlying all existence, which operates according to law, and quite regardless of time and place, they would see that the physical changes accompanying Christian healing are due to the operation of this Principle, in accordance with law; and that such Principle, law and operation constitute Science.

It is evident that Christ Jesus considered this healing work a very essential factor of his ministry; indeed he made it a test of Christian discipleship, for he said, "He that believeth on me the works that I do shall he do also"; which means that he who is a Christian shall be able to heal spiritually. Surely every Christian must desire to believe in and to practice Christian healing and thereby to accomplish much more than drugs and surgery now do, while freeing men from fear, pain, and risk of death, too often attending surgical operations and the use of drug nostrums.

Most right minded persons, too, would like to overcome evil with good if they only knew how; most of us would like to overcome our failings, and be right toward our neighbor. What we have not known is this, that such results follow naturally the knowledge that good has more power than evil. Few realize that the logical, the inevitable, sequence of an understanding of the Master's teachings and strict obedience thereto would bring about a cessation of all sorrow and sickness in the world.

All those who admit that Christian healing is even desirable can but welcome a consideration of what it would involve, what it would depend upon. Let us consider, therefore, whether there is a Science, a Principle and law which can be applied, and how this application can be made. Let us inquire also what we can and must do with the prevailing belief in matter, that greatest stumbling block to belief in the Bible and the fulfilment of promises.

PHENOMENA OF NATURE

To the student of nature, it becomes very evident that there is an intelligence operating through law, which explains the marvels of mineral, vegetable and animal formation, that there is a power or creative force which is materially interpreted in adhesion, cohesion and attraction; that there is a law whose activities are intimated in growth, atomic aggregation, structural formation and other phenomena of the world about us. To human sense there is a creative, governing, controlling power or influence, called force or energy, and a substance called matter, in which this force seems to adhere and through which it acts. Even in common thought these two are essentially different. Matter is visible to the material senses, force is not; matter has mass, force has none; matter occupies space, force does not. In fact, matter is that which is actuated or brought into evidence by force. They seem to coexist.

Matter was formerly believed to be an entity separate from force or energy but recent researches and discoveries have rendered this view untenable. The unit called the atom which was supposed to be the smallest possible division of matter substance, is now affirmed by physicists to be itself composed of thousands of what are called electrons. These electrons are infinitesimal particles of electrical energy, composed of positive and negative charges of electricity, which are vibrating with very great velocity. It is thus disclosed that the atom is a manifestation of force, and that atomic aggregation or so-called material substance and growth, is therefore a form or manifestation of energy or force. In short, matter is now regarded as the appearance externalization or projection of force and energy, and consequently what we touch, smell taste, see or hear, is in fact force.

This then brings us to the view point of materialistic philosophy and psychology, from which further appears that the mental faculties which we call sight, hearing, etc., are different forms of vibration, and consequently what we see, hear, feel, taste or smell is a mental impression. In every case it is not matter or an object which cognizes or is cognized but a mental phenomenon experienced is consciousness. Thus we see that we are conscious of existance mentally and the things we are conscious of are mental impressions objectified— sense phenomena. It is evident therefore that even from the point of view of modern physicists, although perhaps not yet admitted by them, that existence is consciousness and that our present universe is our individual impression or concept of the universe, the way it appears to us through the five physical senses. Thus existence is wholly mental. All its activities, appearance and phenomena are mental and must be dealt with mentally. Christ Jesus proved the mental nature of matter and existence when he walked on the water, stilled the tempest, healed the sick, raised the dead and overcame other material conditions.

SENSE IMPRESSION NOT ABSOLUTE BUT RELATIVE

It is further evident that the character of our existence depends upon the character of our consciousness. We cannot avoid this conclusion when we think of the differences in personal characteristics, in educational bias, environment, association, and experience, and what a widely varying sense of existence these differences produce in different individuals. Sense phenomena are, therefore, not absolute since they depend upon the character of the perceptive faculties, both native and educated, which vary greatly with different people. For example: let a tree be viewed by a botanist, an artist, and a lumberman. The botanist views it from the standpoint of his botanical knowledge. He sees its botanical make-up and structure, and notices the character of the leaves, flowers, bark, etcetera.

The artist views it mainly from a purely artistic standpoint. He notes the color and form of the tree, and the way it relates itself to its setting. Coincidentally with this he analyses his impression and thinks perchance of the combination of pigments he must use to reproduce it upon canvas.

The lumberman sees the tree as so much available building material. His estimate of its worth is not in terms of botany or beauty but in board-feet. To him a beautiful branch means a knot in the board, which reduces its value.

Furthermore, the so-called actual characteristics of the objective universe, size, shape, distance, and color, are not the same to any two persons, for since the lenses of the eyes vary, the image made on the retina also varies and the resulting mental impressions are necessarily different, showing that human perception is relative, not absolute.

MATTER NOT SUBSTANCE

The chief difficulty in realizing the mental nature of matter is the belief that matter is substance. We have already seen that it is simply a form or state of energy, composed of electrons, and that it is a phenomenon of force instead of something apart from force. We know that what is called organized matter can be destroyed, for any material object can be reduced to atoms; and, if the atoms are then separated into their constituent electrons, the object as such has completely disappeared and what remains is a theoretical manifestation of force, a mental concept.

One of the fundamental properties of substance is substantiality, which is defined as being that which is lasting, that which has real existance, that which is actual and not illusory. This means that substance is indestructible and permanent and matter cannot therefore be real substance since it is both destructible and transitory; it is relative, not absolute; a mental concept, and not a substantive actuality outside of consciousness.

Substance is that of which anything is constituted, its body, its structure. Hence, whatever exists must have substance and this must be indestructible. To illustrate, a mathematical idea, if true, has substance. This substance is not material, it is not the visible figures nor the chalk or ink with which they have been made, since these can be destroyed. Its substance is its truth, a right idea which can never be destroyed. It is unchanging, permanent, it has the power to remain itself. The substance of all real things is right thought, which we do not see physically but mentally. Matter, therefore, is not substance since it is not substantive. It is but an appearance of substance to physical sense.

In the analysis of being it is extremely important to perceive that there is substance apart from what is commonly called matter. This exists solely in the realm of mind or metaphysics and is conceived of purely metaphysically, for thus only can the substantiality of truth or spirit be seen, and that which St. Paul refers to as "The substance of things hoped for" be realized.

Another difficulty in getting away from the material sense of things is the dimensional concept of existence. Physical sense can perceive only finite or physical things. For example, the dimensional concept which the senses have of mathematical ideas is projected as finite, concrete figures or quantities. But it is not the mathematical truth which they see, for this truth is not in figures. It is in mind and is cognized mentally through mathematical understanding.

Physical things are but the symbols of reality. The ideas which they may express are not limited to the physical expression but exist everywhere. Every truth is unlimited and thus infinite for it is everywhere and indestructible. There is but one idea six and that six is everywhere, can be known and used by everyone, it can never be altered, exhausted or destroyed, and consequently it is infinite.

LIFE APART FROM MATTER

All this leads to the perception that there is no life in matter since one of the fundamental characteristics of life is continuity of existence which, as we have seen, cannot be predicated of matter.

We cannot affect mathematical truth by anything which may be done to the figures, nor can we affect the real life of anything by what we may do to its material appearing or symbol. When figures are written down at random without regard to law, they have no meaning, no power. It is only when they are correctly used that they express truth or life. So too when human thought conceives of ideas as fragmentary, discordant, temporary, without Principle or law, this concept is without substance, truth, life or power.

It is thus seen that there is neither substance nor life in matter or material phenomena; that our existence is not material but mental, a state of consciousness, and that truth and life can only be conceived of metaphysically. On this plane alone can we analyse existance logically and intelligently, and solve its problems.

In the preface to the text-book of Christian Science, Mrs. Eddy says, "The time for thinkers has come." This is surely true, Christian healing being contrary to the teachings of physical science, cannot be interpreted on a material basis, it can be understood only as we gain a metaphysical or spiritual view point. Mrs. Eddy makes it entirely clear that material existence is not real existence; that matter is not what it seems to be, and that we cannot safely trust the evidence of the physical senses. Her writings lead thought into the realm of the immaterial and divine, they show us that we must look beyond physics into metaphysics for causation and truth. The world is now beginning to feel this demand. Inquiry into the nature of things is becoming more general and the call is for an intelligent interpretation of experience, of physical phenomena, and of the nature of the human consciousness. Many of the points for which Mrs. Eddy has contended are today finding corroboration as a result of advance in physical science and psychology.

We are now ready to concede the possibility of Christian healing, that which is affected through spiritual means, the power of divine Mind. Those who still have some lingering doubt of this possibility should bear in mind that many physicians are now admitting the mental causation of disease, the effect of the emotions upon the secretions and upon functional and organic activity having been abundantly proved.

It is further evident that the mind or intelligence which is the source of all right ideas, is the intelligence and power which may logically be looked to as a remedy for all wrong ideas or conditions of human experience. The natural healing power must be the Mind or intelligence which is the underlying Principle of being. It is obvious that Truth alone corrects error, hence the discord or disease which results from false sense, can be put away, or healed only through Truth. Many who believe in God as the creator are so illogical as to believe that although He knew enough to make all things, He does not know enough to correct our false sense of what He has made.

BODY IS MENTAL

Having seen that all the phenomena of nature are mental, the projection of imperfect human sense, and that disease is mental and must be healed mentally, it is essential for us to see clearly that body is mental.

We have seen that matter is a mental phenomenon, a state of human consciousness, hence we logically conclude that the so-called material body is mental. It is evident that this body is not the man, since he is not lessened though he lose a limb. Man's real selfhood or individuality is in consciousness, and this is obviously mental.

The appearance as well as the acts of a man express his individuality and partake of the nature and quality of his consciousness. The Scriptures say of a mortal, "As he thinketh in his heart, so is he." But man does not live in a body nor can he be controlled by it any more than mathematical truth lives in figures or is controlled by them. The body of a man is but an outward sign or means of human identification, and to encourage us to think of our existence as apart from the material body, St. Paul tells us that it is better "to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord."

Let us remember, therefore, that discordant conditions of the body are in fact due to discordant conditions of imperfect human sense, a sense which is not always expressed as conscious thought, but which is a part of the mentality that creates and governs things of which we are not conscious. For example, we are not conscious of the circulation of blood nor of the assimilation of food, nor of the growth of tissues, yet these processes are all manifestations of mentality, and would instantly cease were mentality removed. A wrong thought, a fear may cause a discordance in organic or functional action and then we become conscious of some inharmony. In other words, as a man is an individual consciousness, and as the body is an externalization of consciousness, of which discordant conditions are but a state, healing can result only as a change or transformation of this consciousness is brought about, and this must evidently be accomplished mentally, through some action of thought, since only in this way can the quality of consciousness be changed, the morbific conditions and their causes be eliminated and a normal harmonious state be established.

CONVINCING EVIDENCE

There is an old saying that, "The proof of the pudding is in the eating." When I first heard of Christian Science and began its investigation, it seemed to me necessary to determine whether the claims regarding its healing were true. I therefore made a very careful investigation of a number of cases of healing, followed up cases of abdominal tumor, of cancer, of consumption in the last stages, of shortened limb, of dislocated hip, and others, and I found in each case that the physician's diagnosis had been correct; that the patients were now well and that no healing remedy had been used except this Science. I found to my entire satisfaction that Christian Science heals. How the healing was done was still a mystery but I was at least convinced of the fact.

Especially was I convinced when I found that I could obtain these results through my own efforts, the only limitation of ability being my degree of understanding, as is the case in every science or art.

The fact that some few people do not seem to be healed through Christian Science treatment is no more to the discredit of Christian Science than is a boy's failure to solve a mathematical problem a discredit to mathematics. Both failures are explained the same way. It is said that Jesus "did not many mighty works" in his home city "because of their unbelief."

When John the Baptist sent two of his disciples to determine whether Christ Jesus was the Messiah, Jesus, according to Luke's statement, having cured many of their infirmities and plagues, and of evil spirits, and given sight unto many that were blind, answered them, saying:

"Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard; how that the blind see, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, and to the poor the gospel is preached. And blessed is he, whosoever shall not be offended in me."

The fact that Christian Science heals can readily be determined by any sincere investigator, and the supporting evidence reveals its coincidence with spiritual healing, thus proving this healing to be true and possible today and establishing the fact that Christian Science is Messianic.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF CHRISTIAN SCIENCE HEALING

We are now in a position to examine into the method by which Christian healing is scientifically demonstrated.

According to the Scriptural accounts, the healing wrought by the master and his disciples, was accomplished through mental or spiritual means alone, thus through some action of thought. Christian Science healing is brought about in the same way. In both, the healing Principle and law are mental, and we are thus led to examine into the nature of Mind and mind action.

Christian Science teaches that Mind is that which thinks, that which expresses itself in ideas, intelligence, consciousness. Thus it is the basis of all manifestation, the Principle and intelligence of the universe. It discloses that Mind is infinite, and that Mind and its ideas constitute all being. Mind is that which manifests and that which is manifested. Thus it is Truth or actuality, and there can be no place where Truth is not. Infinity means without limitation or boundary, without beginning or end, without quantitative dimensions. It means omnipresence, the everywhere present. It means omniscience, the all-knowing consciousness. It means omnipotence, the almighty power. This infinite Mind is Spirit, the substance and essence of real being; it is Soul, the identity and individuality of all right ideas; it is Life, the creating and sustaining Principle of all avtivity; it is Truth, the actuality of being; the Love, —it is the substance of all goodness and harmony. This infinite, absolute, perfect, indestructible omnipresent being is the incorporeal Father Mother God, the divine "Us" of the Scriptures whose true nature is revealed through Christian Science.

This divine actuality is the scientific basis on which all Christian healing is demonstrated, the divine Principle whose unlimited power is utilized in the overcoming of sin and sickness.

It follows axiomatically that perfect Principle is manifested in perfect ideas; hence man and the universe, the representation and expression of Mind, must partake of its perfect, infinite, spiritual nature. Thus we are led to accept the truth of one of the fundamental statements of Christian Science, viz: "All is infinite Mind and its infinite manifestation" (Science and Health, p. 468). Because man is the image and likeness of God, like his Father, it follows that he must be incorporeal, spiritual, perfect and that the universe must be harmonious, indestructible, spiritual, a realm wherein perfect law governs perfectly.

Christian Science maintains that divine Mind is the infinite, divine reality, which embraces and supports all real existence; constituting perfect God, perfect man, and perfect universe, which cannot be perceived through the physical senses but only through understanding.

UNREALITY OF EVIL MIND

But if reality is spiritual, perfect, there arises the question, "what of evil, material discordant conditions?" Here Christian Science explains that, as Spirit the absolute good, is infinite, everywhere, there can be no place for either evil or matter. It therefore classes all phenomena and all experiences which are unlike perfect God and perfect man, as unreal, as false concepts projected by erroneous physical sense; as untrue beliefs, and it sustains this contention by destroying these conditions, thus proving them untrue, for truth is indestructible. Thus it differentiates between the actual and seeming and enables us to recognize error as error, thereby making the separation between error and truth.

Christian Science shows that the so-called mind which includes the belief in evil, matter and disease, is not real Mind but a false concept of mind, the Adam dream, which St. Paul terms, "The carnal mind which is enmity against God," in other words, God's unlikeness or opposite. This carnal mind Christian Science further defines as mortal mind, since it includes all that is sick, sinning, discordant and mortal. It is the inversion or counterfeit of the immortal divine Mind and its betraying characteristic is finity as opposed to infinity. All that is real is infinite, therefore all that is finite is unreal. The unreal beliefs of the carnal mind have neither place, location, nor power, any more than has the school boy's erroneous belief that two times two make five. It is simply a false concept.

THE INITIAL STEP IN HEALING

This then is one of the initial and essential steps in the Science of Christian healing—the recognition of the unreality of all that which is unlike God, that it has but a seeming and not an actual existence. Unless this stand is unequivocally taken, and maintained, Christian healing cannot be scientifically or successfully demonstrated.

The first step in the correction of any mistake is the perception of the mistake. So long as we believe error to be real and true, we cannot correct it. Christian Science reveals the untrue nature of mortal mind and its substratum, matter, and shows that material, discordant conditions must be dealt with as error, for only on that basis can truth heal them, as is the case with the correction of any other error.

The order of scientific Christian healing therefore is expressed first, in the knowing of perfect God and perfect man, followed by the recognition of the erroneous nature of disease, sin and all that is unlike God; then in the application of absolute truth to the elimination of error, so that right, harmonious conditions may be established.

Right spiritual knowing or real thinking expresses the activity of Truth in consciousness. The knowing of God is the apearing of Christ in us. This healing consciousness comforts the sorrowing, brings hope to the infidel, awakens the sinner and heals the afflicted by destroying the darkness of error with the light of Christ, Truth.

A NECESSARY DISCRIMINATION

It is thus that Christian healing is not brought about through hypnotism, will-power, or mental suggestion in any form, for these methods all involve belief in the reality of matter and evil, and simply effect the exchange of one belief for another. They depend wholly upon the influence of one human mind over another and the danger of this method becomes apparent when we recognize that the quality of the mind may be evil and may thus transmit evil. In Christian Science healing the human mind is not a factor, for the healing power is divine Truth, which dispels error and its effects. The human will does not enter therefore into the operation, even as in correcting a mathematical error we do not use will-power but perceive the error as such and aply the corrective truth.

One of the cardinal points in Christian Science healing is to recognize all disease and sin as mesmerism and as no more a part of man than it is of his Maker, the infinite divine Principle.

Writing to the Romans, St. Paul says: "The good that I would I do not; but the evil which I would not that I do. Now if I do that I would not, it is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me."

In conformity with this statement of the great Apostle, Christian Science teaches that the evil is not the man, but is always impersonal and only acts in so far as it is believed to be true by deceived human sense and this separation between man and false material belief has a very significant relation to the healing of sin as well as disease.

HUMAN SENSE HEALED

The healing work is accomplished in the human mind by bringing about a change of consciousness wherein lies the belief in error which has to be corrected. This human mind is that quality of consciousness which embraces error and yet which can begin to know divine Truth. It is the plane on which the real can reach the unreal. It is a kind of clearing house where Truth can be known, where error can be corrected and where harmony can be established. It is a transitonal stage of experience in which transformation takes place, through the renewal of the mind. It is an imperfect consciousness, still influenced by error, but one to which the saving Christ can come, healing it of its erroneous beliefs and renewing it with the mind of Christ. Mortal mind or the carnal mind is wholly evil and erroneous but the human mind, although containing much error, possesses also some good. It is this element of good which is quickened and enlarged through the appearance of the Christ in consciousness, and which will eventually be so transformed that all error will be destroyed and the perfect, spiritual, harmonious consciousness of the real man be established.

Christian Science heals sin in the same manner that it heals sickness, by recognizing the fact that evil is the opposite of good or the absence of good, and thus has neither Principle nor power; that it is no part of God's creation since in the infinity of good there can be no place for evil. It shows that evil is a lie, "a liar, and the father of it," as Jesus termed it, and that it exists in the human consciousness only as a false belief of good. When Christian Science reaches the consciousness of the sinner, it shows him the deceptive character of evil, and awakens him from the mesmeric dream, the bondage in which he has been held. He is thus set free and evil no longer appeals to him. He ceases indulging in it because the desire has been destroyed by the presence and power of divine Love, he has begun to work out his salvation through Christ.

THREE MODES OF HEALING

Christian Science healing reaches the individual in three ways. First, through reading of Christian Science or hearing it spoken. This healing is accomplished when the truth of the written or spoken word enters a receptive consciousness and brings about a change in the quality of the thought, so that there is an awakened interest, a new view point, a clearer vision, an uplifted sense, a removal of fear, a yearning satisfied, the darkness of evil dispelled, and the brightness and power of good made manifest; the majesty, glory and presence of infinite consciousness is then externalized in improved bodily conditions, and health and harmony are expressed. It surely proves the divinity of Christian Science for the healing is solely the result of the declaration of divine Truth.

Second, healing is effected through the effort made by a person to apply the Principle and rule of Christian Science to his own problem. This is accomplished by the study of the Bible and the Christian Science text-book and by the application of the Master's teaching in a scientific way, whether it be a case of disease, sin or other discord. This healing likewise results from the destruction of erroneous beliefs by the presence of divine Truth and Love in consciousness.

Third, healing is effected through the effort made by one person to apply the truth to the problems of another person. The possibility of one person healing another through mental endeavor has often been doubted and misunderstood, especially in Christian Science healing where there is no transfer of mortal thought. This healing is explained by the fact that a problem presented to a practitioner for solution becomes the practitioner's problem and is affected by his thought of Truth. When one knows the truth and reflects it, that consciousness becomes more spiritual and everything included in it and to which it is directed is benefited thereby. The patient asking for treatment has at least a slight degree of faith or expectancy and if he is earnest and honest he will get the benefit of the truth which is known about him and lem. In Christian Science treatment there is no effort at mental manipulation for the mortal mind is not a factor in the healing.

To know the absolute divine truth about man and the nothingness of mortal mind, brings the truth to bear upon the case no matter whether the person is near by or far away. Christian Science healing results from an awakened consciousness produced by the Christ Mind and neither time, distance, matter nor evil enter into it nor can they interfere with it. Christian Science heals through the operation of divine law, the law whose Principle is infinite Spirit, Life and Love, and anyone can heal through Christian Science who will apply this law of God exactly and honestly.

Respecting this Mrs. Eddy has said: "To-day the healing power of Truth is widely demonstrated as an immanent, eternal Science, instead of a phenomenal exhibition. Its appearing is the coming anew of the gospel of 'on earth peace, good-will toward men.' This coming, as was promised by the Master, is for its establishment as a permanent dispensation among men; but the mission of Christian Science now, as in the time of its earlier demonstration, is not primarily one of physical healing. Now, as then, signs and wonders are wrought in the metaphysical healing of physical disease; but these signs are only to demonstrate its divine origin,—to attest the reality of the higher mission of the Christ-power to take away the sins of the world." (Science and Health, p. 150).

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE TREATMENT

A Christian Science treatment, or the scientific application of divine Principle, consists fundamentally of a clear knowing of the nature of God and the real man, and the consequent recognition of the unreality of matter and evil. It involves an analysis of that which is to be healed, a spiritual discernment of the mental causes of trouble and a correct application of the antidoting divine Truth which will correct and remove these causes. Although this is a mental process, it is not a mere repitition of words but rather the reflection of divine Love through spiritual consciousness. It brings about not merely a physical change but improves the patient morally, mentally and spiritually. It brings a man nearer to God and changes his standpoint from a material to a spiritual basis. It uplifts his thought, gives him power over evil and improves his whole being in the degree that he can grasp its truth. Christian Scientists know that "with God all things are possible" and that Christian Science can accomplish all the wonders of infinite Mind. Hence they are striving day by day to have in them more of the Mind that was in Christ, that they may demonstrate this healing power more and more effectually. They are deeply grateful today for the good that has already come to them and the good they have been able to do to others, especially that they have learned to know the unreality of evil and have thus begun to defend themselves against its influence or control, against every temptation and assault of evil mind, or animal magnetism. They are grateful to know that there is a perfect and compassionate God who will guide them and sustain them, "a very present help in trouble."

Each of us can begin today to improve our thought and life. We are thinking something all of the time and we can begin to think more of what is good and true, bearing in mind the supremacy of good and thus increasing its presence in our consciousness. We can begin to think more about life than death, more about harmony than discord, more about success than failure, more about joy than sorrow, more about love than hate, and with earnest desire and honest endeavor our faith in God will grow until we begin to experience some of the "peace of God, which passeth all understanding."

LOVE FOR MRS. EDDY

The love and gratitude which Christian Scientists feel toward Mrs. Eddy is not to be wondered at when one takes into account the great good which has come into their lives as the result of her teachings. People are grateful to one who has helped them out of a serious difficulty, supplied some great need or rescued them from some disaster. How much more grateful would they naturally be to one who has made it possible for them to be healed of incurable disease, hopeless sorrow, the bondage of degrading sin, of anger, lust, hatred, jealousy, revenge, poverty, ignorance, superstition and fear, and more than this, who has healed them of agnosticism and atheism by revealing to them the naturalness, simplicity and truth of the Bible teachings and the possibility of their fulfilment.

The whole world is indebted to her for her Scientific and spiritual interpretation of the Bible, especially the words and works of the Master, and for her demonstration of the truth of his teachings. In the face of the so-called higher criticism and the doubt respecting the correctness of much Scripture teaching and the possibility of obeying Christ Jesus' commands, Mrs. Eddy's proof that the Bible is true stands out as the greatest, most significant achievement of this age, for hereby the truth of Christianity and the rightness of its basis is scientifically established.

Mrs. Eddy early learned that the Bible is the word of God, the spiritual teacher of the ages. She turned to it for light and leading when human ways and means failed to give health and hope. In its inspired pages she found Christian Science, the spiritual fulfilment of Jesus' teachings and practice and she thus rediscovered the Science of Christianity. The proof of the sincerity of her aspiration and of the truth of her teaching is found in her own life and works and in the lives of those who honestly study and daily strive to practice Christian Science. She did not leave her work here until it was so established as to remain intact and inviolate.

With wisdom and foresight she insured the safety of the Christian Science organization and the preservation of the purity of her teachings by establishing The Mother Church as the anchor of the Christian Science movement and by providing a Manual for the government of the church, and a Board of Directors to administer its affairs.

To Christian Scientists Mrs. Eddy is a living example of the triumph of faith in God, a faith deep and vital because rooted in spiritual experience. She knew God aright. She looked to divine intelligence and proved that God is Mind. She was governed by spiritual law and proved that God is Principle. She looked to God for health and proved Him to be Life. She loved all mankind and proved that God is Love. She gave all for the "pearl of great price," the knowledge of God, and offered it to all the world.

Christian Science is the renaissance of Christianity, the re-birth and re-establishment on a scientific, demonstrable basis, of the Christianity which Christ Jesus taught and practiced. It is the fulfilment of his mission of bringing to the world salvation from sin, sickness and death. Its modest achievements of today prove the truth of its Principle and rule and enable any sincere seeker to begin to live it. It is a clarion call to every aspiring heart, to awaken to the present privilege of freedom and spiritual authority over human ills, and to demonstrate that the day of human redemption is at hand.

Mrs. Eddy writes:

"When will Jesus' professed followers learn to emulate him in all his ways and to imitate his mighty works? It is possible,—yea, it is the duty and privilege of every child, man, and woman,—to follow in some degree the example of the Master by the demonstration of Truth and Life, of health and holiness. Christians claim to be his followers, but do they follow him in the way that he commanded? Hear these imperative commands: 'Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven perfect!' 'Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature!' 'Heal the sick!'" (Science and Health, p. 37).

A Congress of Mothers would agree on this

All over New England are mothers with small families and large families who have to keep constant watch over the welfare and health of their children. If you wanted to know what these mothers do to keep their children well and strong, a canvass of these homes would tell you that many mothers agree that "L. F." Atwood's Medicine is the best remedy for the common ills of childhood. Before the public for over sixty years, this reliable remedy, with its old fashioned virtues, has won its way into thousands of homes, and wise mothers use it whenever they see their children in need of something for their stomachs, bowels, liver or blood. A medicine that is prompt and thorough, and perfectly safe for children to take.

CURED OF WORMS

Familiar signs of worms in children are: Deranged stomach, swollen upper lip, sour stomach, offensive breath, hard and full belly pains about the navel, pale face with occasional gripings and of leaden tint, eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, itching of the nose, itching of the rectum, short dry cough, grinding of the teeth, little red Trade Mark points sticking out on tongue, starting during sleep, slow fever. If your child shows any of these symptoms, start using Dr. True's Elixir, the Family Laxative and Worm Expeller, at once.

"My little son is gaining every day and I think more of Dr. True's Elixir, than all other such medicines put together," writes Mrs. Ida Gagnon of Manchester, N. H.

Oxford County Towns

Oxford county contains 35 incorporated towns, 3 organized plantations and numerous unorganized townships. Some of us may have learned at school to give the list of our Oxford towns in their alphabetical order, but it is doubtful if any of us could give the list in their order of population or tell at first thought how the town in which we live ranks with the others. Here is the list, taken from the last census of 1910:

1	Rumford	6,777
2	Paris	3,436
3	Norway	3,002
4	Mexico	2,065
5	Bethel	1,930
6	Fryeburg	1,282
7	Oxford	1,221
8	Buckfield	1,087
9	Dixfield	1,056
10	Canton	1,013
11	Hiram	945
12	Waterford	934
13	Brownfield	933
14	Porter	864
15	Woodstock	808
16	Sumner	762
17	Andover	757
18	Peru	746
19	Lovell	668
20	Greenwood	664
21	Hebron	603
22	Denmark	596
23	Hartford	592
24	Albany	410
25	Roxbury	311
26	Upton	306
27	Newry	271
28	Sweden	266
29	Stoneham	253
30	Gilead	233
31	Stow	224
32	Hanover	196
33	Byron	187
34	Grafton	64
35	Mason	60

It will be seen from the above statistics that Rumford, Paris, Norway and Bethel are the four big towns and centers of business for the county, Mexico being largely a residential town for the workers in the Rumford mills, having taken fourth rank in population within the past few years and likely to stand second when the next census is taken. While Bethel ranked fifth in population it was fourth in valuation in 1910. In the four leading business centers mentioned, are published four weekly newspapers, The Rumford Falls Times at Rumford, the Oxford Democrat at South Paris and The Norway Advertiser at Norway and the Oxford County Citizen at Bethel. These four towns are also the banking centers of the county, each containing a savings bank, national bank or trust company. Probably most of us may have known these things before, but sometimes a little study of our own county and town is good for us all.

Bion M. Greely and daughters Ida and Bessie of Oxford, also Dr. George Vogel of Boston, visited Saturday at Ralph M. Bacon's.

It looks as if almost everyone in town would soon have an automobile at the rate they are being purchased. We ought to have a Woodstock Auto Club and show our colors.

Doris Buck, who teaches the Whitman school, spent the week end at her home in Buckfield.

Edwin Howe is making repairs on the house recently purchased of J. E. Hathaway.

The Sunday evening meetings will be held at 7 o'clock instead of 7:30 through the winter.

Rev. E. H. Stover and Emily J. Felt are attending the United Baptist Convention at Portland October 2, 3, 4.

Next Sunday will be observed as Go-to-Sunday-School Day, Harvest Sunday with exercises by the children at the Baptist church during Sunday School hour with special music by the choir.

Flossie Eastman is a new scholar in the High School, and is staying at A. M. Chase's.

Rev. E. H. Stover and wife attended the Sunday School convention at South Paris last week.

G. W. L. Perham was in Augusta, last week attending the special session of the Legislature.

Last Sunday Quimby Perham's family with his sister, Mrs. Ames F. Chase and husband, of Lynn visited their sister, Mrs. Raleigh Bumpus of Turner.

DICKVALE.

Mrs. Geo. Libby has returned from her visit at Massachusetts. Mrs. Libby and her daughter, Mrs. John Ebberhart, visited her son, Linus Libby, October 1st.

Flora Washburn's sister, May, visited her the 1st.

Sylvester Searles has finished work at the corn shop at Wilton and has returned home.

Mrs. Job Morrell is on the sick list.

WAYSIDE IMPRESSIONS AND MUSINGS.

All of Lovell looked prosperous to me the other day. This may be due to my physical condition and the beautiful fall weather.

Nearly all the houses were well kept and nicely painted. I don't mean the summer home of the transient, but the homes of the natives, the fields, pastures, out-buildings and cattle looked prosperous.

The churches, grange buildings and graye yards show it. The stone and cement dam at the village show it, so do the horses, carriages and people, even the dogs, with one exception, and I excused that as it showed unmistakable signs of sickness.

The dog was laying in front of a store next the postoffice and had a long, slim, pointed nose and a head not much bigger than you fist and was so thin in flesh I thought I could see daylight through it. Had it been standing in the sun I certainly could, as I doubt if it could cast a shadow. Its color was dark slate, high posted and showed good breeding. I don't know who belongs to him, but he certainly seemed sick and at home where he was. I hope I'm mistaken about its health, but fear the sunshine now shed by him in some family will soon fade away.

I found roads reasonably good. Of course, the sand road from Lovell village to the State road leading to Bridgton was bad—worse than usual. I was told this at the postoffice and it was the truth. Some of the pine lots along side the road have been cut and sawed into lumber and the hauling of which has made a bad road worse.

I was directed to return to Norway over the road we had come, but didn't want to do it. I went the other way and got through, but it took courage and big quantities of gasoline.

On coming to the State road ten autos passed before we could get into the procession. It was Wednesday afternoon of the big day of the Fryeburg fair and the people were going home.

A punctured inner tube necessitated a change and it took 20 minutes and fully forty loaded cars passed us in that time. Several of them offered assistance. It was not needed.

I noticed in Lovell, spacious and well kept horse sheds at the churches, the townhouse was nicely painted as were the schoolhouses and at dangerous turns the bushes were cut. It shows thrift. What is the reason?

This town is from 12 to 21 miles from a railroad station. It is a longer haul for everything than is Otisfield, where rural prosperity is receeding.

Lovell has water and beautiful mountain scenery and some local enterprising young men, a few years ago, discovered it and put air, water and scenery onto the world's market and all living near the Big Kezars are now reaping a harvest.

Ben Brown was the pioneer and made money; others caught the infection and have done well and it is in evidence nearly everywhere you go in town.

N. T. Fox in the village is "it," backed by his own wealth and that of his father, Eben, can successfully carry through any business project he sees fit and he has many times proven his ability to do it.

You say that is selfish commercialism; be it so, its helpful and a beneficial. Its the foundation and success of a community and they have it to a large degree in the Lovell of today.

I am pleased and so are others.

No doubt there still lingers some of Gran. Martin's much talked of "Lovell tricks" and an occasional "Lovell-monsters" will appear as do the sea serpents at the beach.

I forgive them.

Lovell Center, to me, if view on a clear day, has the prettiest scenery in all New England, none excepted.

It's native people are all right and the price of eggs and milk reasonable.

NORTHEAST LOVELL

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Bennett and children accompanied by Grace Linnell, spent a day in Berlin, the past week having dental work done and doing some trading. Earl Hoyt was chauffeur.

Bears are making free with sheep in back pastures. Lester Littlehale met a bear in the tote road and decided that it would be better to fire at him than to run, and found himself the proud possessor of a bear that weighed 350 pounds. Lester is now a happy boy, he will have it mounted.

Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Salt have returned to their home in Montclair.

Roland Ripley and family have moved to North Stratford, where he has work.

Automobile parties going to Aziscoos Dam are numerous every pleasant Sunday hunting parties are coming in to go up the river.

WHY YOU ARE NERVOUS

The nervous system is the alarm system of the human body.

In perfect health we hardly realize that we have a network of nerves, but when health is ebbing, when strength is declining, the same nervous system gives the alarm in headaches, tiredness, dreamful sleep, irritability and unless corrected, leads straight to a breakdown.

To correct nervousness, Scott's Emulsion is exactly what you should take; its rich nutriment gets into the blood and rich blood feeds the tiny nerve-cells while the whole system responds to its refreshing tonic force. It is free from alcohol.

"I Feel Like a New Woman Now; Mrs. C. Belyea Tells About Tanlac for Nerves

"Before I took Tanlac I suffered from a general run down condition of the nerves," said Mrs. Chas. Belyea, 41 Brown street, Portland.

"I would get that 'tired feeling' and seemed to have no ambition. Tanlac certainly did me a lot of good. My nerves are lots better and I feel as I have new life. My appetite is better, too.

"I obtained Tanlac because it was highly recommended to me and now I want to recommend it to others."

Those who take Tanlac live up to an important rule of nature. It has been said "Live up to the rules that old Mother Nature lays down and life will run as smooth as a boat going with the stream."

Tanlac is a natural medicine for mankind to take because it is purely vegetable, being composed entirely of roots, barks and berries gathered in many parts of the world. It is especially designed to relieve stomach, kidney and liver ills.

Those who wish to learn more of Tanlac may do so at F. P. Stone's Drug Store, Norway.—Adv. 40

ANDOVER

Andover Fair

Good weather and a crowd of people can make a fair it has been said. Andover did not lack either and the 32nd annual fair and cattle show may go down in history as one of its most successful fairs. More admission tickets were sold this year than last.

There were the usual number of fruit and soft drink booths but the side show attractions were missing.

The Ladies' Circle of the Congregational church served dinners in the big dining hall, and in the hall under the grandstand was a tea room in charge of Mrs. F. A. Milton and Mrs. Emma Adams who were working to swell the furnace fund of the Congregational church.

The exhibit of cattle and poultry was not as good as last year but the swine and horses were better. The exhibition hall held the usual attractions.

Mrs. Gertrude Newhall, who has been visiting Mrs. C. A. Rand, returned to her home in Portland Monday.

Walter Barnes visited his aunt, Mrs. Bonney, at Phillips, Sunday.

Stella Roberts, who has been working for Capt. Barker at the Lakes returned to Andover last week. She will spend a few days with her brother, Whitney Roberts, and family, before leaving for Michigan, where she will join her parents.

Mrs. Annie French is visiting Tom French and family at Rumford.

Lone Mt. Grange instructed three candidates in the first and second degrees Saturday evening.

Rev. Laite from Rumford Center and a large party are at C. Pond for a two weeks' outing.

Roger Thurston has been drawn to serve on the Grand Jury and John Caldwell to serve on the Traverse Jury at the Supreme Judicial Court held at South Paris next week.

Plants Have At Least Three Senses

James Rodway, who is the curator of the British Guiana museum and an eminent botanist, declares that plants have at least three of our five senses—feeling, taste and smell—and that certain tropical trees smell water from a distance and will move straight toward it.

But trees not in the tropics can do as well. A resident of an old Scottish mansion, says a writer in the Scotsman, found the waste pipe from the house repeatedly choked. Lifting the slabs in the basement paving he discovered that the pipe was completely encircled by poplar roots. They belonged to a tree that grew some 300 yards away on the opposite side of the house.

Thus the roots had moved steadily toward the house and had penetrated below the foundation and across the basement until they reached their goal, the wast pipe, 150 feet away. Then they had pierced a cement joining and had worked their way in. There seems something almost human in such unerring instinct and perseverance in surmounting obstacles.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

Whereas, God in his infinite wisdom has called us to mourn the loss of our Sister, Mrs. Carrie Harriman, therefore be it,

Resolved, that in the death of Sister Harriman, Kezar Lake Grange loses one of its most loyal members, one who was always ready and willing to lend a helping hand in all Grange work, and while we deeply feel her loss, we humbly submit to the will of the living Father who doth all things well.

Resolved, that the members of Kezar Lake Grange extend their heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family.

Resolved, that in memory of our departed sister our charter be draped in mourning for thirty days and that these resolutions be placed on our records, also a copy sent to the family and the same to be published in the Norway Advertiser.

EXTRACT FROM SERMON BY REV. G. H. NEWTON ON CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

Rev. G. H. Newton of the Baptist church, Norway, gave a very interesting talk on Christian Science last Sunday afternoon. These are some of the questions he asked and answered.

Is Christian Science scientific? Is it Christian? Mr. Newton states, as the reason for preaching on this subject; Duty. He considers a minister's duty is to enlighten his people, to warn them in times of danger and to teach the doctrines of Jesus Christ.

In answer to the first question, "Is it scientific?" the fundamental principle is that, Matter is nothing, Mind is everything.

It is a science of mental healing and all matter is erroneous. There is no such thing as sickness or evil, such things are dreams, delusions. Nevertheless, people die. Mrs. Eddy is known to have visited a dentist once and to have taken an anesthetic, to have an aching tooth out. She explains it in these words taken from a book entitled "Fundamentals" found in the Brooklyn Eagle Library 1901. The dentist belief in the means he employed was a mental force which, combined with her own, exerted in a different direction, produced a painless operation as a logical mathematical 'resultant of forces.' In one of the books written on Christian Science, the statement is made that wild horses never take cold when not blanketed. Therefore, your horse which is accustomed to being blanketed when left standing unblanketed on a cold winter's day, takes cold not because you leave the blanket off, but because the horse thinks he will take cold. If he didn't think he would take cold, he would not.

Science is what is known severely tested, etc., can it be proved that there is no such thing as matter? Is it true that there is no evil in the world? Do you want to let your children go out alone in the world believing that Doctrine? The Preacher claims there are remarkable healings such as some under the head of Mental Cures.

There were mind cures ages ago. He spoke of auto suggestions—mental suggestion. Everyone admits there is value in Mental cure, cheerfulness and faith in one's ability to rise above discouragements, does much for one's physical condition when discouragement, lost faith, have brought on neurasthenia and other mental diseases. One of the claims of Christian Science is that they can do more than medical men with organic troubles. We do not hear of all the failures in Christian Science—sometimes Christian Science patients die.

Those who see nothing in Christian Science may become loyal supporters—for instance, a business man may be against the wall, discouraged, down and out, so to speak. He is interested at first then calls a Christian Scientist. Their treatments are continuous, they do not drop their patients, because he is helped mentally, to get a grip on himself, he gives his whole self to the Christian Science church.

Christian Science means the following of Mrs. Eddy, whose writings are neither reasonable or scientific. If a cat takes poison and doesn't know it, it ought not to die. If mind is all, why wear heavy clothes in cold weather, why are we not warm if we only think so?

How can we deny that drugs have any power. In malarial fever they give quinine. Its effects can be seen in the blood by use of the microscope. The quinine laden corpuscles attack the germ laden ones, overcoming and consuming them. So it is folly and unscientific to declare that drugs have no value.

There is a moral value in the ideal mind cure in the overcoming of passion and appetite.

Mrs. Eddy denies the personality of God. God is a principle, even as the principle of mathematics. She denies the atonement on the ground of unreality of sin. She denies that Christ is the son of God. Prayer is desire she says. She denies the resurrection and the Lord's supper and because it is a sad and mournful occasion, she does not believe in commemorating blood, pain and death. Christian Science is opposed to the real teaching of Christ, therefore it is not Christian.

If you believe in the power of God to heal through prayer, let go of Christian Science, God can heal without a belief in Mrs. Eddy. If you become a follower of Mrs. Eddy, a disciple of her school, you become a follower of one of the most illogical minds in the universe. You become a follower not of religion, but of a theory, why not be a follower of Christ and His teachings?

NORWAY MUNICIPAL COURT

Wm. F. Jones, Judge.

Patrick Minahone of Paris was brought, by jailer John Titus, before Judge William F. Jones Saturday, charged with the larceny of a chain valued at three dollars from Charles Fickett of the same town. Minahone pleaded guilty to the charge and was given thirty days in jail by His Honor.

Tuesday was the monthly entry day for the civic suits. The usual number were entered.

Wm. C. Leavitt brought to the office a specimen of his garden truck and made a claim that the specimen was only a fair sample of conditions in his garden over on Orchard street. The object in question was an overgrown sunflower 10 feet tall and the blossom measured 15 inches across the head. The stock was correspondingly large and suitable for cord wood as suggested by the owner. Incidentally William left a bag of nice eating apples for the office force.

Leon Kimball and wife with Edward J. Charon and family visited friends in Naples, Sunday.

Eugene Descoteau was on the sick list Sunday, but has returned to his work on the electrics.

The Roosevelt Club of Norway, formed in the Presidential campaign of 1912, will hold a meeting at the headquarters of the Hughes and Fairbanks Club over E. F. Bicknell's store this Thursday evening for the purpose of taking appropriate action regarding the disposition of the campaign flag which was purchased by subscription in 1912.

Mrs. Clara Bradbury is visiting her sister, Mrs. Alfred Hebbard.

Bert L. Hutchins and wife gave Mrs. John F. Hutchins a surprise party Tuesday evening in their home on Cottage street, this being her 60th birthday anniversary. A fine supper was served and the evening given up to sociability. Mrs. Hutchins was the recipient of many remembrances from the children. Those forming the party were Mr. and Mrs. John F. Hutchins, Mr. and Mrs. Bert L. Hutchins and children, Francis and Bernard; Mrs. Alma L. Harriman and daughter Florence.

KEOKA LODGE OF WATERFORD ENTERTAINS NORWAY LODGE

Keoka Lodge, No. 12, Order of the Eastern Star of Waterford held a special session at Mason's hall, Wednesday evening, to which had been invited the members of Oxford Chapter, O. E. S. of Norway. On receipt of the invitation the Norway Lodge immediately availed themselves of the opportunity of visiting this order knowing full well the genial hospitality which would be extended. There were about 50 attended from Norway and a number from Oxford. At 7:30 a bountiful supper, the kind which the ladies of Waterford always set before their guests and for which the fame of Waterford cooks has gone out over the surrounding hills., was served. The lables were laden with the best and baked peas, baked beans, brown bread, white bread, baked apples all kinds of cakes, pies, cookies and hot coffee made up a most appetizing menu.

After the supper and a social hour enjoyed, the officers of Keoka lodge opened the meeting. The chairs were filled as follows:

W. M.—Nancy B. Jewett.

R.—Emma M. Miller.
E.—Marion E. Stone.
M.—Carrie L. Plummer.
El.—Lillian J. Pride.
Ward.—Ella A. Hamlin.
Sent.—Willard C. Goodwin.

After the opening of the chapter in regular form, a cordial welcome was extended the guests by the worthy matron. A short recess followed after which the degree was conferred by Oxford Chapter with the following in the chairs:

W. M.—Alice E. Smith.
W. P.—Eugene F. Smith.
Asst. M.—Emma E. Buck.
Sec.—Eva M. Kimball.
Treas.—Annie W. Young.
Cond.—Mabel K. Leavitt.
Asst. Cond.—Cora E. Kimball.

Es.—Berenice Nash.
M.—Bertha A. Evirs.
El.—Clara L. Luck.
War.—Virgalyn I. Murdock.
Sen.—Horace C. Kimball.
Org.—Lillian Powers.

The work of the degree was exemplified in a very pleasing manner.

Following the work an interesting program given by Keoka Lodge as follows:

Song Quartet
Quartette composed of Ida E. Riggs, Christiana B. Sias, Rosa Kneeland, Rev. G. W. Sias and Charlotte Fillebrown, organist.
Reading Ida E. Riggs
Silo G. W. Sias
Reading Edith G. Millett
Song Quartet
Reading Christiana B. Sias

TRAINING FOR HOSPITAL WORK.

Christine, daughter of W. C. Leavitt, is training to become a nurse. She is at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital on Huntington Avenue, Boston. I understand fifty dollars is the fee paid for six months' training. At the end of this time if sufficiently efficient she can commence "as a beginner" in hospital nurse work.

A few extracts from a home letter may be of interest.

I think I shall like it in the hospital. It is the hardest work I ever done, but it is interesting. The girls are very nice.

Every morning at six o'clock a gong goes off, it sounds like a tin pan and I think it must be. We have breakfast at twenty minutes of seven. Usually fruit, cereal and some kind of meat or egg. After breakfast we do housework for two hours until nine. Two girls dust our corridor and two sweep it and two make the beds, etc. Another girl and I have to dust and that means wash everything in the bath room on the roof and our corridor and dust all the rooms on the roof and corridor with wet dusters Our job and the sweeping job is the worst, for the rest have to do their work before we can and we are the last. If we could go right to work it wouldn't take very long and after we get through we have to boil the dusters.

At nine we go to class which is partly dictation and partly practical work. We have practiced on bandaging and on making beds. We have had to make one with a patient in it and we have to be our own subjects, that means we had to strip and put on a hospital night gown and kimono and go to class like that. It is kind of fun now, but it won't be so much fun later.

We have lunch at 12:15 and class from 1 to 4 in the afternoon which means more dictation and bed making. From 4 to 7:30 we don't have anything, but I usually copy notes and it takes every minute of your time to keep them copied. I usually go out for a walk a few minutes before supper. From 7:30 to 9:30 is study hour and at 10 we are supposed to be in our rooms and at 10:30 lights out. We can get late permission until midnight for the asking. We have dinner at night and almost always and every night I have been here we have had ice cream. We have good food and plenty of it, but it isn't like home food.

I don't mind the collars half so much as I thought I should and they don't make my neck red. I guess it is only when you have them too tight that it does.

We have awful cute little rooms with a cot bed, bureau, desktable, deskchair and willow rocker, which is right in the way of the closet door and dandy lights, one over the bureau, one over the desk and a desk light with shade.

There are just nineteen in my class and I am the tallest as usual. I wrote steady one day from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. and I don't believe there was more than an hour let up and that's a fact, I am not stretching it a bit. There is a big chime clock on one of the buildings here that chimes just like the one at home and I always think of it when I hear it.

Sarah Mayberry is still at the Lynn hospital and her condition remains unchanged. She has been ill with typhoid fever during the past four weeks.

When the 2nd Maine Infantry returns from its three months' tour on the Mexican border they will be given a demonstration and a big welcome by the Portland people. It will be remembered they gave the boys a fine "send off" when they started for the border.

Old Folks Concert

The harvest supper and Old Folks Concert given in the South Paris Universalist church by members of the society was a complete success. A supper composed largely of garden products proved a great attraction, and fully up to the usual standard. Fully two hundred and fifty tickets were sold to the old fashioned concert. The costuming of the soloists and chorus was original and striking. Bonnets, shawls and other articles of dress dating back several generations were brought out for the occasion, giving an atmosphere of the days when our great grandparents were young and sedate.

Prof. Winfield S. Ripley of Boston, a former Paris boy, composer and band master, acted as director to this strange aggregation. The program follows:

Orchestra Piece—Keturah Mariah Dean, violin; Algernon Elijah Cota, cornet; Isaac Ephraim Dean, violin; Philander Josiah Davee, violin; Lucinda Emeline Fletcher, mandolin; Sally Ann Morton (she that was widder Penfold, once Aggie Briggs) piany.

Rally Week at Deering Memorial Church

Rally Week is being observed at the Deering Memorial Church. The services started last Sunday morning with a special sermon to "Old Folks" by the pastor, Rev. C. I. Spear. On Monday evening the Official Board discussed "Weak Points in Church Management" and the meeting proved mutually helpful. Tuesday evening was set apart as "Epworth League Night," Rev. L. W. Grundy being the principal speaker. "Ladies' Aid Night" and reception to the president came Wednesday evening and a large audience gathered for the occasion. No services were held Thursday.

The remaining services for the week will include a Sunday School banquet and address by Rev. T. N. Kewley, Friday evening; reception to cradle roll Saturday at 3.00 p. m. and a grand rally Sunday as a climax. At that time the pastor's theme will be "Learners and Lifters." A record breaking attendance in Sunday school is expected.

Mrs. Henry Kerr planted a garden late in the season, so was able to send a large box of fresh vegetables to her daughters, Annie and Clark in Boston this week. Mrs. Kerr appropriately termed the package a "variety garden sauce shower." String beans, green corn and cucumbers were the features not to be found in the city markets, but ripe tomatoes and beets were included for good measure.

A COMBINATION THAT WORKS WELL

Doing an Immense Amount of Good.

No other medicines possess such curative properties as these two great restoratives, Hood's Sarsaparilla and Peptiron Pills, working together.

They reach the impure, impoverished, poisoned, devitalized blood, and the worn, run-down, overworked, exhausted system. They awaken the appetite, aid digestion, purify and vitalize the blood, give renewed strength to the whole body, produce sound, natural sleep, and a complete restoration to good health. Two dollars invested in these two medicines will bring better results than four dollars spent in any other course of treatment or attendance.

It will be wise to get Hood's Sarsaparilla and Peptiron Pills today. They are sold by all druggists everywhere. Accept no substitutes. 200 doses $2.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Kirkpatrick of Buckfield, were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. I. O. Barrows.

Rev. G. H. Newton, pastor of the Baptist church preached a strong sermon Sunday on "Christian Science. Is it scientific? Is it Christian?"

Mrs. W. R. Lowell of Dorchester, Mass. is spending the month of October with her son, Harry Lowell and family.

A. W. Walker is to rebuild at once. The ruins are to be cleared away even to the foundation walls, and a new ten or twelve room residence built under the supervision of M. L. Noyes. The cellar walls will be of cement blocks and the house of wood. No pains will be spared to make this new home comfortable and convenient in every particular.

Hazel Mosher, the infantile paralysis patient on Alpine street has so far recovered that the nurse has been released and her mother, Mrs. E. H. Mosher is caring for the little girl alone.

Henry Kerr, with a pair of horses, is working on the state road near Paris Hill.

W. R. Swan and daughter, Alice A. Swan of Lynn, Mass., visited Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dean last week. Mr. Swan is a conductor on the Boston, Revere Beach & Lynn Railroad, a position he has held for thirty years.

Owners of the Oswell garage have the lumber on the lot and will son build on an addition 100 x 20 feet for storage purposes.

O. A. Barrows' bungalow on Pine street is well along. The carpenters have the walls boarded in and the roof partly completed. This neat dwelling measures 28 x 28 feet, 4 inches. L. E. Dow of Norway is in charge.

M. L. Noyes and crew are putting up a bungalow style dwelling for John Titus of this town on Pine street near the High school building, but on the opposite side of the road. The sill measurements being 30 x 36 feet.

The Mason Mfg. Co. are shipping 18 to 20 cars of toys every week. There are orders enough all booked to keep the factory moving without a let up until late in the spring.

Byron N. Greely hauled the last load of corn into the Burnham & Morrill yard Wednesday afternoon and the season's pack of 600,000 cans completed Thursday. This number being about 300,000 short of the normal business. Supt. Frank Goldsmith states that the company had 375 acres signed, but results were obtained from about 233 acres. Even then the crops fell far below the average and the factory did only one-half its capacity business. Labelling is now in full blast.

The Congregational church was well represented at the conference in Bethel this week. Rev. and Mrs. Andrew T. McWhorter, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Barnes and Clara F. Howard attended the first session Tuesday. Alton Maxim carried a large party up Wednesday of the following members: Mrs. N. G. Elder, Mr. and Mrs. James Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Talbot, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Plummer, Mrs. Oscar Barrows, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Muzzy.

W. E. Morse, the Grand Union Tea man is to give up his work on the team owing to failing health. Mr. Morse has followed this line during the past four and a half years.

The Grand Trunk are still using watchmen on their bridge. W. T. Witherell has been on duty since April 1915, W. L. Libby since February of the same year, both are the night men. John A. Porter is the day watchman and has been there about a year.

Geo. H. Davis spent a few days last week in Saco with his daughter, Mrs. E. H. Stevens.

A. M. Green, who drives the team for the Paris Home Bakery is taking a two weeks' vacation and Geo. H. Davis is driving in his place.

C. F. Saunders and family, Martha Barkett and sons, John Morse and family, and A. T. Powers and son attended Waterford Fair Saturday.

Herbert Russell is visiting at his old home.

Bear River Grange.

Bear River Grange met in their Hall Sept. 30, 1916 at 3:30 p. m. Worthy Master in chair filled vacant chairs as follows: Lect. Carrie French; Chap., P. O. Brinck; Ceres., Mabel Bailey; A. S., Irvin French. One candidate was balloted on for membership. It was voted to have a public dedication of the Hall in four weeks from this meeting, and also voted to have a Harvest Supper and Dance in three weeks. The dance committee consisted of C. F. Saunders, E. W. Stearns and P. O. Brinck. The supper committee consists of Carrie French, Florence Kilgore, and Addie Saunders. One candidate was instructed in the 1st and 2nd degrees. A song by Mr. and Mrs. Brinck was enjoyed. There were thirteen members present.

In the Oxford county case of state against Hiram Scoville the motion for new trial is overruled it being held that a motion for new trial on ground of surprise at the trial before the jury must be addressed to and heard by the justice presiding at the trial, and that where a motion for a new trial is based upon alleged ground of surprise at the trial and such ground is not apparent from the record, it is not to be inferred, but is a fact to be proved.

Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Stover, Mrs. Emily Felt, Elsie Herrick, Lottie Bryant, Mrs. Effie Peverly and Mrs. L. W. Titus attended the Sunday School Convention at South Paris last week.

Mr. Leonard and family returned to their home in New Jersey this week, after spending the summer here.

Mrs. Abbie Russell is spending the week in Portland.

I Remember

I remember, I remember the house where I was born, the little window where the sun came peeping in at morn. You'd hardly know the old place now, for Dad is up-to-date and the farm is scientific, from the back lot to the gate. The house and barn are lighted with bright acetylene; the engine in the laundry is run by gasoline; we have silos, we have autos, we have dynamos, and things, a telephone for gossip and a phonograph that sings. The hired man has left us—we miss his homely face—a lot of college graduates are working in his place. There's an engineer and fireman, a chauffeur and a vet., 'lectrician and mechanic, oh, the farm's run right, you bet.

NORTH WATERFORD

Sanborn-McKeen

A very pretty wedding took place on the evening of September 28th at 8 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Morton, the groom's mother, 220 Main street, Auburn, when Edward Amos Sanborn and Florence Berenice McKeen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mckeen of Albany, were united in marriage by Rev. Mr. Woodin, pastor of the Congregational church.

The double ring service was used. The bride was becomingly attired in a dress of dark blue silk crepe de chene with white silk lace and satin trimmings and carried a large bouquet of white roses and ferns. The groom was dressed in a suit of dark blue, which was very becoming.

Those present were the groom's mother, Mrs. M. J. Morton, Mr. M. J. Morton, the bride's sister, Mrs. Bessie Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Austin McAllister, Mr. and Mrs. Leforest McAllister and Mr. Alton McAllister of Auburn.

Ice cream and cake were served and after wishing the happy couple, who will reside at their home at 150 Minot avenue, Auburn, a long life of pleasure and prosperity, the guests left for their homes at a late hour.

The Ladies' Circle will be entertained October 10th by Mrs. Merritt Sawin at her home. All preparations are in order as a good time is expected.

Mrs. Rilla Marston has gone to Lovell to visit her daughter, Mrs. Sidney Hatch and family.

The W. R. C. was invited to Lovell to a campfire, Thursday, October 5th.

The canning season at the McWain shop finished Tuesday.

Mildred Parker visited her mother, Mrs. Annie Holmes, a few days fair week.

Lincoln Holmes lost a horse recently.

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Hazelton took Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Lebroke to Bridgton, Sunday to carry Harriet Chaplin home, who had been visiting at Mr. Lebroke's a few weeks.

Mrs. G. E. Farmer was visited by her niece and family from New Hampshire through the fair.

Mrs. Lizzie Morse has gone to Bethel to work.

Ed. Bisbee is working at Haskell's mill at East Waterford and boards at Mrs. Sarah York's.

Mrs. Chandler Merrill and children have been to Lovell on a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Milliken.

Rice Neighborhood

Ernest Grover has commenced work for Charles Saunders. They have begun to pick apples on Prof. H. P. Warren's place.

Another one of Irving Green's sheep was eaten by a large bear Sunday evening. Geo. Whitehouse set more traps there Monday and spent Monday night with Charles Hersey.

John Evans is carpentering at Dea. E. B. Hersey's.

H. H. Hosmer has returned to his home in Norway.

Rev. C. N. Efiopoulos is to be away on his vacation the next two Sundays, so there will be no preaching service. Sunday school will be held as usual at the regular hour at 1:15 p. m. There will also be the regular song service in the evening.

HEBRON.

Hebron Academy

Arrangements are being made by Prof. E. C. Marriner of the department of English for a series of preliminary debates to choose members of the school debating teams which will represent Hebron in the various interscholastic debating contests this year. Sixteen boys registered in the class in 4 argumentation, thereby ex-officio candidates for the teams. The contest will also be open to all the boys in school, and it is hoped that at least 30 will present themselves for the trials.

The new board of the Semester, the official organ of the school, has been organized. The failure of Patrick J. Burke of Nashua, N. H., to return to school left vacant the editorship which has been filled by the election of Vincent York of Rangeley, a member of the senior class, who is especially proficient in literary work. The remaining personnel of the board comprises:

Assistant editor—Dwight E. Libby of West Poland.

Business manager—Walfrid Wahlquist of Bennington, Vt.

Assistant manager—Fred T. Hall of Bangor.

Associate editors—Walter J. Rich of New York City; Leta T. Weymouth of Howland; John W. Oakley of Portland; Helen Brown of Madison; Clinton Murray of South Portland; Pauline Hale of Great Chebeague; George P. Murphy of Concord, N. H.; Donald Sprague of Boothbay Harbor; Leola Bean of Keagan.

The pulpit of the Baptist church was again supplied Sunday by Prof. Tubbs of Bates College, who gave a scholarly and inspiring sermon on "Point of View."

SOUTH WOODSTOCK

E. B. Davis, F. R. Andrews and Harry Sanborn were in Norway Wednesday on business.

O. A. Robbins and wife, W. H. Noyes and wife went to Grafton Wednesday on a hunting trip.

W. S. Davis was in South Paris on business Tuesday.

A. M. Andrews, H. M. Andrews and Elvin Russell went to Magalloway Tuesday, returning Wednesday night.

The Willing Workers will hold their sale at the Union church Saturday evening, Oct. 7. There will be a box supper, food and ice cream, etc., on sale.

F. E. Davis was in South Paris to attend the hearing on the line case between Woodstock and Sumner, Wednesday.

R. L. Cummings has purchased a Dodge car.

R. L. Cummings, Alanson Cummings and C. W. L. Perham and wife attended Pomona at Albany Tuesday.

The Bedroom

Beds should not be against a wall as it may be damp, without any outward indication, and many mysterious colds are due to this. Some papers, too, contain arsenic, especially green ones.

There should be no carpet under the bedstead. It collects dust and germs. Beds should be stripped directly after the occupant is out and the sheets and blankets flung over a chair back.

Finally, some "don'ts." Don't hang any more clothes in a bedroom than you can help. Don't use groved toilet ware. Sediment collects. Don't store anything under the bed, nor blankets without pieces of yellow soap in the folds. Moths!

And don't forget that you spend nearly five months out of every 12 in your bed and bedroom, so it ought to be the most healthful place in the house.

HYGIENE OF OLD AGE

At a recent annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic the surgeon general of the great association of veterans offered some general advice in regard to the health of men who have reached 70 or more. He gave three similar rules for the preservation of a good physical condition as old age comes on. They are: Avoid excessive use of foods, excessive use of stimulants and excessive active or violent exercise. These safe guards are widely applicable, and are so terse that they are easily remembered. The statistics of the Grand Army are carefully kept, and form a valuable criterion on this subject. At the beginning of 1915 the membership was 159,863. Deaths during the year numbered 11,856, a little over 7 per cent. In the general pension list the deaths are more than 100 a day, but the pensioners include soldiers' widows, and survivors of all the wars of the United States. Only a few are left who served in the Mexican war that ended in 1848. Eight or ten soldiers of the revolutionary war and the war of 1812 lived to be more than 100 years old, and possibly thirty or forty who were in the civil war will live to be centenarians.

It is probable that the rate of mortality among the veterans is higher than the average. They went through a trying ordeal in camps and bivouacs, as well as in battle. On occasion they made long marches, slept on the roads and in fields and at times rations were scant. The deaths from disease outnumbered those from bullets. Over 2,500,000 men were enlisted in the Union forces. At the latest report the membership of the Grand Army had declined to 149,074. It embraces nearly all survivors who were in the service of the United States between 1861 and 1865. The surgeon general gives good counsel on the best way to maintain good health to men of three score and ten. His recommendations are valuable to men of any age. Avoid excess of any kind, is the tenor of his advice. The best rules of hygiene are not complicated. If all individuals observed them health reports would quickly take a turn. The more favorable the injunction not to use food excessively is the one most needed. Conservation of the vital forces is evidently the best method of living long and comfortably. To say so may be a truism, but it is not one of the self-evident facts that require no repetition.

Many important battles have occurred in which the combatants were fewer than the deaths in the Grand Army last year.

Determining Disputed Boundary Town Line—Sumner, Woodstock, Peru.

The town of Sumner brought suits against the towns of Woodstock and Peru for the determination of the divisional lines between those towns. The location of these lines has been in dispute for many years and it was thought proper to have them re-located.

The Court appointed a commission to do the work and report.

Hon. A. E. Herrick of Bethel, County Commissioner-elect, Chandler E. Buzzel, of Fryeburg and Civil Engineer, E. Court McMacey of Berlin, N. H., were appointed.

This commission has been on the job for eleven days and the end is not yet reached. It is expected they will report at the coming term of court.

The case is important as much valuable property is bounded to individuals on the town lines. There are some 15 miles of it which this commission and attorney have traversed and we understand, decided on, which, when surveyed and spotted, will become the boundary line.

The attorneys for Woodstock are Hon. Alton L. Wheeler and Judge A. E. Stearns. For Peru, Bisbee & Parker and for Sumner, Hon. F. R. Dyer and Walter L. Gray.

Sheep Profitable in Maine.

"I have always found sheep very profitable. My wool sold for 35 cents a pound and lambs at $6 or better each this spring. Sheep help pastures greatly," says William L. Duncan of Washburn. He seeds all his new ground to timothy and alsike clover. The stumps are pulled and blown out and in a few years the pasture land is in excellent condition and is ready to be used for potato land. Mr. Duncan points out that the pastures handled in this way provide feed for the sheep at little expense and at the same time the sheep are helping to enrich the land.

There seems to be a tendency for eggs to be quite watery during the summer, more so than in the winter. This is not exactly due to the condition of the egg, it is more of a climatic condition. Eggs laid in the summer are warm and do not cool off readily for the atmosphere is warm and unless they are placed in cold receptacles right away the white will not become as firm as during the winter. To experiment with this fact, place some eggs in the refrigerator and place some of the same lot in a warmer place, say the pantry, and within 24 hours open them and you will see the result. It is not always the eggs, it is the weather.

To sweeten jars, cans, and boxes which have contained tobacco, onions, or anything else of strong odor, wash the article clean, then fill with fresh garden earth, well cover, and allow to stand for 24 hours. Then wash and dry them, and they will be quite sweet and fit for use.

The Country Boy's Creed.

I believe that the country which God made is more beautiful than the city which man made; the life out of doors and in touch with the earth is the natural life of man. I believe that work is work wherever I find it, but that work with Nature is more inspiring than work with the most intricate machinery. I believe that the dignity of labor depends not on what you do, but how you do it; that opportunity comes to a boy on the farm as often as to a boy in the city, that life is larger and freer and happier on the farm than in the town, that my success depends not on my location, but upon myself not upon my dreams, but upon what I actually do; not upon luck, but upon pluck. I believe in working when you work, and in playing when you play, and in giving and demanding a square deal in every act of life.

MOTHER LOVE AIDS SON IN TRENCHES

It Brings Relief To Boy Standing His Watch Deep In Mud.

Once upon a time, only a few months after this terrible world war had begun, Private Bailey, a soldier in the ranks had stood for days in the trenches "somewhere in France." The cold rains soaked him to the skin; the mud was deep. He had had no rest. Weary and aching with rheumatic pains, he recalled the faith his mother had in Sloan's Liniment. He asked for it in his next letter home. A large bottle was immediately sent him and a few applications killed the pain, once more he was able to stand the severe exposure. He shared this wonderful muscle-soother with his comrades, and they all agreed it was the greatest "reinforcement" that had ever come to their rescue. At your druggist, 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

NORWAY AND VICINITY.

Men's Banquet

The men's Forum of the Congregational church served a banquet Friday evening to their members, the men of the church and invited guests, to the number of 50. Invitations had been sent out inviting the men and their friends.

The menu was as follows:

Prime Roast of Beef
Gravy
Boiled Potatoes in Jacket — Corn on Cob
Pickles
Hot Rolls
Doughnuts — Cheese
Salted Peanuts
Coffee
Music—Victrola

The supper was in charge of John F. Swain and Fred H. Cummings, assisted by the men. Eight young men of the Sunday School waited on tables. The waiters were Francis Chick, Arthur Bartlett, Charles Branch, Lawrence Cogswell, Percy Nevers, Jr., Roland Andrews, Bernard Bennett and Leo Bennett.

After the banquet Rev. R. J. Bruce introduced the speaker of the evening, Prof. F. D. Tubbs, A. M. S. T. D., of Bates college. Prof. Tubbs spoke on the Mexican situation in a very interesting and educational address. In his opening remarks he stated emphatically that he was not lecturing for pay, that he gave these talks from facts as he knew them to be in Mexico, having lived there for six years, twenty years ago, and during that time becoming acquainted with many of the leading citizens of the country and had learned many of their customs and modes of life.

In his opening remarks he said that his talk was not to be a talk on politics, on one side or the other, that it was absolutely independent.

Mexico was portrayed as a happy-go-lucky Mexico, but a most wonderful country, wealthy in silver, iron ore and coal, is an extensive country and is equal in size to 23 times the size of the state of Maine, the population is about the same in density as that of Maine.

The country at the coast gradually rises from the lowlands at the coast to the mountains as high above sea level as Mount Washington in New Hampshire.

On the other side of the mountains is wide plateau land, extending to mountains on the other coast and then gradually extending to the ocean. The upper part of Mexico is a desert.

Prof. Tubbs explained and demonstrated many customs and gestures of the Mexican people.

In speaking of the trouble in Mexico, he said that the great trouble there, was the lack of a middle class of people. The land consists of a few wealthy land owners, while the mass of people is an ignorant, wandering class and is a floating population. Many of the men start off on the train leaving their families and travel as far as their money will take them and oftentimes never return and from this class it is hard to get men to work.

The stability of government is lacking because of this class. A middle class of people would own property, and any quantity could be obtained at a small sum, but they think it is easier to get a living by looting and plundering, by following the revolutionary leaders. They are fearful of each other and fail to trust one another.

A brief review of the history of the country showed a country filled with political ambitions since its early days, which have been ruled by the bullet instead of the ballot and because of this fact, revolutions have been constant.

In the days of Diaz he ruled with an iron hand because of necessity, but during the time the country made its greatest advance until he became lack in his policies on account of old age. During his rule postoffices, opera houses, and railroads were built and the country enjoyed its greatest prosperity.

Before the rule of Diaz the people received about one piece of mail a year on an average but afterward they received on the average of 15 pieces. Most of the people were ignorant and four-fifths were unable to read or write. While he ruled firmly, he never falsely used his office to gain money.

Under Madero there were six years of revolutions and there were raging from 6 to 47 at one time, under the 47 bandit leaders.

The Latin Americas dislike the Americans because of the part we have been playing in affairs and do not feel certain of us and fear us. It is the duty of the United States to restore order. If it was right for us to go into various islands and restore peace it was our duty to do the same to Mexico. A great mistake has been made. Americans have not been safeguarded as citizens in other countries have and the mistake was in not making them safe. Mexicans cannot understand our policy, and say we send soldiers upon them and still it is not war. It is the duty of the United States to restore order in Mexico and to do it before the present European war is over or someone else will do it, and after it is restored we should take up the social and economic questions and make Mexico a liveable place.

BETHEL

Charles L. Lucus

Charles L. Lucas, who suffered a shock of paralysis Sept. 24th died Saturday at midnight. Mr. Lucas was the son of the late John and Mrs. Arvilla Cook Lucas and was born in Bethel 59 years ago. He was educated in the Bethel schools and in his early life was employed for several years as brakeman on the railroad.

After the death of his wife, who was Mrs. Lizzie Greenlaw, he returned to Bethel, where he has been in trade as a grocer for more than 15 years, first in the store at the corner of Main and Broad streets and later in the more commodious store on opposite side of the street, corner of Main and Church streets. Preferring to make his own home in the will appointed rooms above the store, he kept both these and his store with most fastidious care.

He is survived by an aged mother, Mrs. Arvilla Lucas to whom he has been a most devoted son, and two sisters, Mrs. Elmer H. Young and Mrs. Charles L. Davis, both of Bethel, also a niece, Mrs. Robert L. Wormell of Portland and a nephew, Guy Davis, of Bethel. The funeral was held at the home of his sister.

A. W. Judkins and wife of Hotel Stanley are at Weld Pond for a rest of two weeks.

A WATER DUMPED AUTO HUNT

The roads were in the best condition last Sunday afternoon I have seen them this season. The rain of Friday night and the heavy travel to the World's Fair had rolled them in good shape.

I was looking for an auto said to have run into the river at the Iron Bridge last Saturday evening on its return from North Waterford. It was not found hence I put the story down as a fake.

There were two chariots beached on the roadside between town and the scene of the great exhibition. This was to be expected. Hundreds of machines traversed the roads to the North Waterford plaza on last Friday and Saturday.

I came from there Saturday leaving at 10 a. m. and arrived in town at 11:15 a. m., and 42 loaded autos passed us. Cashier H. D. Smith kept tally as did myself and Walter Smith who drove. The roads were in bad shape, but Sunday it was rolled pretty smooth.

An abandoned up-right boiler, a dismantled merry-go-round with boards, boxes, paper and litter marked the place of two continuous days of rural hilarity hand-shaking and dancing. It didn't look so desolate and dreary as did its namesake in Jackson Park, Chicago, in March after the exhibition closed the October before. I've seen both and ought to know. The marked difference was in size of the wreckage.

From North to South Waterford, down the hill, is about six miles. A part of the way the road is badly rutted and cut into cross sections by dumping earth from a cart.

Excellent road through the Flat and in the shadow of Mt. Tir'em. Cottages are closed and chimneys silent. The summer birds have flown.

"The closed" road from South Waterford to Harrison is opened to auto travel and has been for several years. I can't forget the amount of legal business its closing brought to Judge H. C. Davis of the Norway Municipal Court. The dangerous places round Bear Pond have been remedied and it is now a much frequented route into Harrison.

It took several hundred dollars to remove the jutting boulders and widen the road, but it was done as it should be. I think Tim Heath and crew from Norway did it.

There are cottages and many boats on Bear Pond. I wonder why it is not called a lake. Ponds in Maine are getting scarce. Its Keywadin and Virginia Lakes in Stoneham. Former generation knew them as Upper and Lower Stone Ponds, Annonymous Pond has given way to Crystal Lake and so on.

On entering Harrison to the right is a big brick stock or chimney, which I supposed went with a woolen mill long since burnt, but on close observation I'm led to the belief it may now be used for the generation of electricity.

Harrison village has a pretty field rock library. "The Caswell Library erected in 1908." I presume it was given or at least a portion of it by one who wore the name Caswell. I think he made his wealth in Texas. Someone by that name owns the "Lone Star Cottage" and floats a Texas flag on occasions. This is near Crystal Lake—our correspondent, Mrs. Fitzpatrick formerly lived there.

Bert Caswell, in the Woodsum brick house evidently has more hay than he can get into his barn. He has a hay stack near his driveway entrance. Bert has retired from corn packing at Norridgewalk, where he had charge of a corn factory for Burnham & Morrill of Portland for several years. He now lives by easy farming and on his interest money. He pays his bills promptly anyhow.

There are two Woodsum burying grounds, one on either side of the road. I understand they were brothers. Why separate yards? The dam of the mill once operated by them is gone. Traces of it are visable.

I skirted round Island Pond to get a glimpse of the cottage on its one lone island, where Mrs. Elizabeth Edgerly, clerk in the Register of Probate office, South Paris visits and has such good times. Her brother, Mr. Blake, who is well up in the boss row of employees of the United Shoe Machine Co. owns.

I have fished and got trout in the outlet of this pond some years ago. It empties into Crooked River below Sodom Iron Bridge. W. A. Bicknell, with a horse, ice and lemonade, took me to it a few years ago and assured me we would get trout. We didn't get any. Here is where Will was mistaken. We ate a luncheon, drank the lemonade and came home. Havn't been afishing there since and guess Mr. Bicknell hasn't.

Jim Shedd tells of fabulous catches he has made from the brook. Chas. E. Meserve, the blacksmith introduced me to this brook one fine afternoon late in the season and we got some fish. This was 20 years or more ago. None in it for me now.

Twelve years ago I assisted in hunting partridges on Hall Hill. I didn't get any, neither do I think Neal Taylor or W. J. Willard of Portland got any. This was my first long auto ride. I went to West Buxton, Me., and the leading of frightened horses by the car was a continuous performance until we got to within ten miles of Portland.

Some change now. Haven't seen but one frightened horse this summer and I have road several thousand miles. The approach to the Twin Bridges over Crooked River have been fixed also the road to the forks leading to Otisfield Gore. It is in passable shape and it is the best I've ever seen it.

Ralph Flood has a pretty set of buildings where the McIntire, Whitney and Johnson steam mill once was. It looks homelike and handy. Ralph ought to be happy.

Dr. A. S. Newhall is cared for by Mark Pike. Mr. Newhall is able to get about some I understand. Am sure Mark gets out as I saw him with his good clothes on the other day.

Lizzie and Aggie Beal think the town of Norway is pretty mean to dig into the bank of their house lots on the Lake Road and let down and haul off the stone wall without even saying "I thank you."

Mason Kilgore's horse paced a ten mile clip for a long distance on the road last Sunday.

The cedars and bushes along the water side of the Lake Road look fine. Harry Lovejoy has charge. If it isn't done to suit you, speak to him. He is the boss.

The humps in the Lake road speak for themselves.

The corn shops are silent both here and at East Waterford. They have had a little better than half their usual pack. Frost has held off splendidly. Late and wet spring is the cause.

Big Steve Robinson is cutting grey birch trees near S. G. Richardson's.

Clarence Coffin and Web Kilgore are cutting bushes by the road side near the Coffin house. It was neded.

The bushes near the corner of the Boober Hill road should be cut so you can see at the turn. It is a bit dangerous now. Good chance for a head-on-collision for careless driving.

Ed. Witt took down the barn at the old farm and made it into a store house at the Lake. Will anyone build on the foundation of the Norway Lake Supply Co? Give it up. Ask the Oxford Light Co. They may know something about it.

J. S. Smith at the Bradbury store has a nice and well kept store. He had a good lake business this season.

I have looked for John Wood's henhouse dance-hall, but haven't seen it yet. ought to be somewhere about his buildings.

John Parsons was seen cutting bushes beside the road against his land one day last week. Everything about his buildings are well kept and tidy. The old home looks inviting and tells of a generation gone.

John A. Roberts is back in the farming saddle once again. Thad and wife have gone to Augusta after closing at the Lakeview this season.

Capt. Chas. Sewell Penley is the youngest man now living on Crockett Ridge and can bake beans in the ground a little better than anyone else out of the actual military service in war times.

Distance traveled 35 miles and no tires punctured or stray car found in Crooked River.

I close for a spell to rest.

BUCKFIELD

Rev. F. M. Lamb preached his farewell sermon at the Baptist church Sunday before a large congregation. He began his labors with the Baptist church in Brunswick, Oct. 1st, and Rev. William Muir of Center Strafford, N. H., preached here and at Sumner on the same date. Mr. Lamb has served the church here 8 years successfully. Over 30 have been added to the church during his pastorate and both Mr. Lamb and family have won and held the esteem of all citizens. It is with deep regret that their work here is terminated.

Urban Allen has been offered a place with the Kruder-Cushman Shoe company of Chicago and left Tuesday. Herman Cushman, the junior member of the firm, was a Buckfield boy and has made a success, his concern being one of the largest in the world. George Warren will accompany Mr. Allen to Chicago.

Guy Allen has bought the pool room run by George Warren and will take possession at once.

Mrs. H. G. Clement, with her three children, went to West Paris Monday and will leave Wednesday for her home in Redlands, Cal.

Tilson Morse has bought a farm in Livermore and plans to move there soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Bradbury went to Boston Monday, from there Mr. Bradbury will go to Canada to cut Christmas trees.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Buck entertained Mr. J. W. Brock and son Harvey of Searsport, Saturday night. Mr. Brock's uncle was Cyrus Buck, son of Abijah Buck, one of the early settlers of Buckfield, his grandfather being John Brock. The Brocks have died or moved from Buckfield but the name is still here as one of the school districts is called the Brock school.

To Freshen Stale Bread

So that it will be like new, dip the loaf in cold water, put it in a pan, bake it until it is heated through; then wrap it in a damp cloth and, when cold, it will be like fresh bread.

AFTER SIX YEARS OF SUFFERING

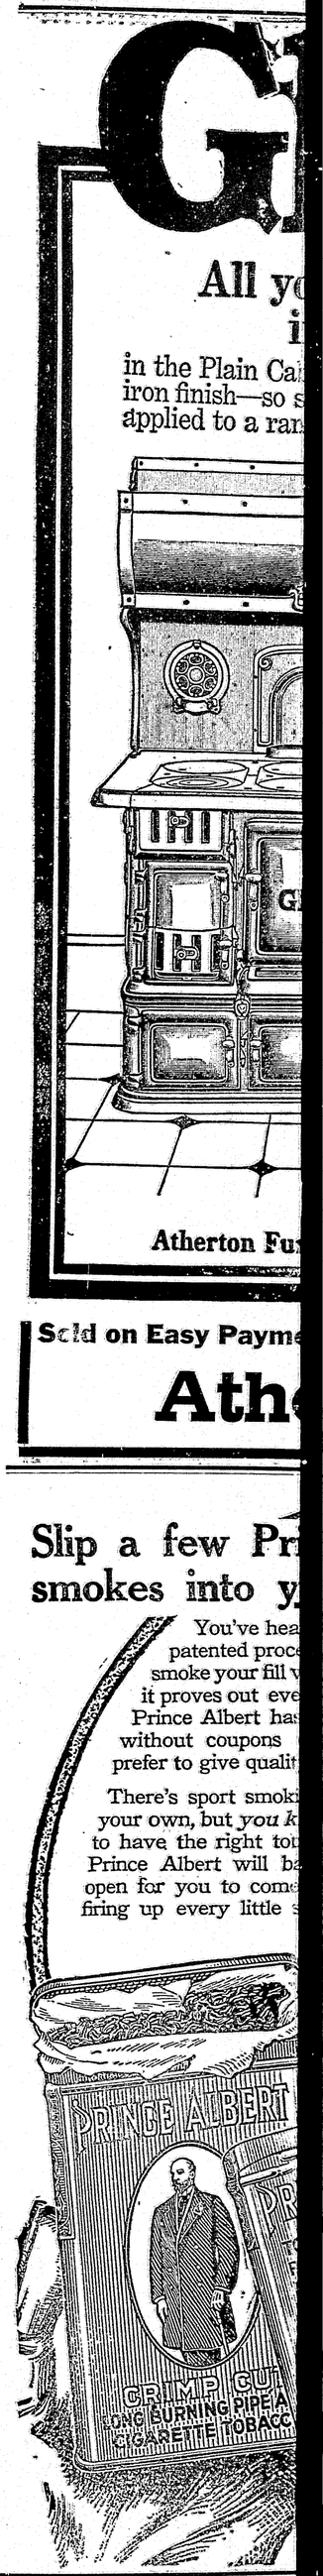

Woman Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Columbus, Ohio.—"I had almost given up. I had been sick for six years with female troubles and nervousness. I had a pain in my right side and could not eat anything without hurting my stomach. I could not drink cold water at all nor eat any kind of raw fruit, nor fresh meat nor chicken. From 178 pounds I went to 118 and would get so weak at times that I fell over. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and ten days later I could eat and it did not hurt my stomach. I have taken the medicine ever since and I feel like a new woman. I now weigh 127 pounds so you can see what it has done for me already. My husband says he knows your medicine has saved my life."—Mrs. J. S. Barlow, 1624 South 4th St., Columbus, Ohio.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound contains just the virtues of roots and herbs needed to restore health and strength to the weakened organs of the body. That is why Mrs. Barlow, a chronic invalid, recovered so completely.

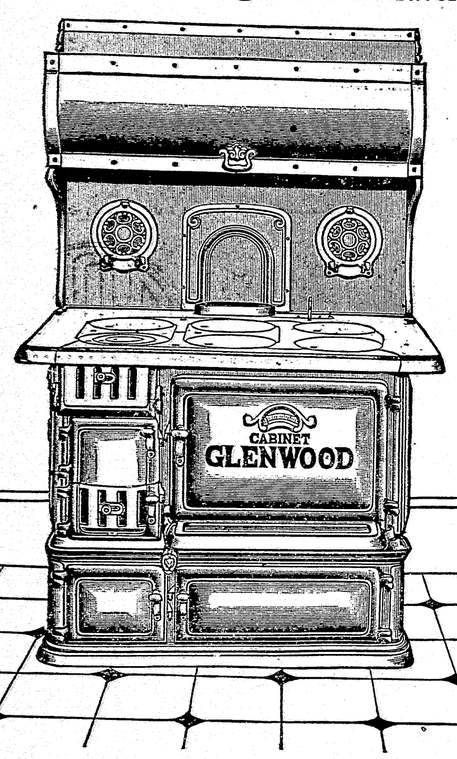

It pays for women suffering from any female ailments to insist upon having Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The New Dam at Hiram Falls

The construction work on the great dam being built at Hiram Falls attracts many sight seers, and one obtains an excellent idea of the manner in which such work is done.

An immense coffer dam of logs has been constructed across a portion of the river, to keep the water back while the construction is going on. Other preliminary work has been done, which has included a penstock and power house for the generation of electricity by which the work of hoisting, etc., is done, the building of houses for the engineers and workmen, a suspension bridge across the river, and other necessary equipment.

Work on the dam is progressing, and already a small portion of the concrete is in place. It is understood that it will take two years to complete the undertaking.

This has always been one of the most picturesque spots in this region and today the scene is intensely interesting, as one watches the hand of man turn the roaring falls from the rocks over which the water has dashed for so many years, while a prison wall is constructed for this mighty force, which will later turn endless wheels of industry and give light, heat and power to countless numbers.

FRYEBURG

The Fair

The attendance of Thursday did not approach the 7,000 mark of Wednesday but a good sized crowd was present. The leading feature of the morning was the parade around the track made up of prize winning animals. It was a fine show of cattle and horses. The fair of 1916 has been a success; the general tone of affairs was a great improvement over previous years, and the success should be credited to the president, George W. Coleman.

The first race was tame and uninteresting, and the second likewise until the third heat, when Antifriction moved from fourth place to first. Cinnamon was far the better horse of the two but had the appearance of being tired out. In the following heat Antifriction led again, making it necessary to drive a fifth heat. In this, which proved to be the decisive one, Cinnamon rallied and won heat and race.

Edward Payson Watson

Edward Payson Weston, one of Fryeburg's oldest residents and a native of Fryeburg, died last Friday at his home on Main street.

Mr. Weston leaves a daughter, Rachel, who lived with him and one son son, John Henry, who had a position in New York and one grandson, Payson. Mr. Weston was in business many years on Portland street in the store where J. C. Harriman now does business.

Funeral services were at the house, Sunday afternoon.

Clara Page will spend the winter in New Jersey and Prof. Weeks will occupy her house during her absence.

Lowell Post and Relief Corps are to have a campfire Oct. 5th, Gould Post and Grover Circle of Fryeburg are among the invited guests. Brownfield Post and Circle entertain October 11th.

Mrs. Josephine Adams Smith is prolonging her outing with her mother, Mrs. Maria Adams, owing to the late opening of the schools.

Mrs. Rebecca Blake of Brownfield had an ill turn at Fryeburg Fair, she soon recovered however.

Delightful days for auto rides through the mountains to see the beautiful foliage.

Mrs. Rebecca Potter of Bridgton was a visitor during the fair, also Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Tenney, Fred Powers and wife, Ralph Cousins and wife, Winfield Cousins and wife and William Tasker.

Dr. Thurlow's family have returned from a visit with relatives of the doctor in Burnham.

Mrs. Charles Johnson who sold her house to Mr. Watson, has moved her goods to Brownfield and will spend part of her time in Fryeburg and part in Brownfield.

Mr. Watson and family and Mrs. Sylvia Willey have taken possession of their new home.

Mrs. Laura Charles has moved in the Nash McDonald rent for the winter.

Herbert Ward and wife are keeping house in his mother's rent.

Lizzie Shirley, daughter of the late Thomas Shirley is spending a few weeks in town.

Mrs. Sarah Ladd received news last week of the marriage of her brother, Josiah Kimball, whom many of the older residents will remember as "Cy" Kimball, as he was called, and has lived in La Conner, Washington, many years and is 75 years old and his bride is 43, a widow with three children, two grown up and one 11 years old.

Edward Payson Weston, one of the oldest citizens of this town, died at his home Thursday night after a brief illness. Mr. Weston had been out and about his garden not many days ago. He was for many years engaged in trade in the Buzzel store on Portland street. Mr. Weston's immediate surviving relatives are a son, John Henry Weston of New York, and a daughter, Rachel Weston of Fryeburg.

At the West Oxford Agricultural fair the weather was very fine and it was the warmest weather ever known at fair time here. The attendance was very good. There was not as many young children at the fair as usual. The Grange exhibits in both the upper and lower halls of the exhibition building were very full and well arranged. The general exhibits in these halls were even larger and better than usual.

The granges exhibiting were the Mountainview, of East Conway, N. H., the Mt. Etna of North Baldwin, the Kezar Lake of Lovell, the Fryeburg of this town and the Pequawket of North Conway, N. H. The exhibits in the upper halls contained fine cooking, canned fruits and vegetables and jellies, etc., beautiful embroideries of various kinds, lace work, rugs of all kinds, bedspreads and quilts, fur robes, a very large and fine variety of apples, grapes, pears and other fruits, butter, etc. Here were also seen the art exhibits, which included interesting and beautiful collections from the studios of the well known artists, B. T. Newman and Annie Cary Bradley. Hattie Pike exhibited watercolor pictures of flowers with one landscape. The grange that received the first prize in the upper hall was the Mountainview of East Conway, N. H., $50. The Fryeburg Grange received the second prize, $30, and the Mt. Etna the third, $20. The fine needlework collections of Miss Haley of Cornish and Miss Harriman were beautiful and attractive. In the lower hall the Pequawket Grange, for its very full and artistically arranged exhibit of field and garden products received the first prize of $50, the Mountain View Grange the second prize of $30 and the Fryeburg Grange the third prize of $20. Those granges which did not win any of the prizes received $15 each for their exhibits.

Fryeburg Academy enjoyed a short recess during fair week. Its sessions closed on Tuesday, September 26, and began again on Monday, October 2. Friday, September 29 will be made up later.

Lieutenant Arthur Dow Newman, U. S. A., who has been stationed on the border at Fort Brown, Texas, for the past two years, is now the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin T. Newman. He is enjoying a vacation of one month from his duties at the Mexican border, where he has been since his graduation at West Point.

It is reported that the Fryeburg Post will suspend publication until the paper situation is in a better condition.

The Fryeburg friends of Philip E. Abbott of Smiths Mills, Sebago, were much interested to see his trotter, Lady Gamage win the 2.50 race on the second day of the West Oxford fair. His father, the late W. Henry Abbott, designed and constructed the race track at the present fair park.

THE REPUBLICAN VICTORY

I had read in the paper the news of the day,
Here in my arm chair in my usual way,
The house cat gaped and stretched himself,—
The old clock ticked on the mantle shelf.

Silence reigned all through the house,—
I had just dropped into a drowse,
Had just got settled down to sleep
When I heard a clatter down the street.

I arose and passed out through the door,
My paper dropped upon the floor;
And down the street I started out
To see what the noise was all about.

The illumination was very neat,
I saw them coming up the street;
Somebody grasped me by the hand
And said, "Say Mr., hear that band."

The automobiles were fine indeed,
And horsemen mounted on their steed;
They drew quite near and somebody said,
"Get away from that horses head."

The people crowded along the way,
And soon I heard somebody say,
As I stood there in the red lights' glare,
"Say Mr., see that bear."

It was a cinnamon bear I think,
The glare of torches made him wink,
He had to sneeze but proud did feel
To have a ride in an automobile.

The band did play and the people choked
The air was solid full of smoke;
The dogs they barked and cats run wild,
The stars overhead looked down and smiled.

The old bear added to the fun
The band played, "Johnny get your Gun!"
And onward led the big parade
While hornes they blew and horses neighed.

The elephant from the jungle wild
Walked along with steady stride,—
With giant strength and mighty form
He shook the earth as he went along.

Roosters crowed for miles around,
Dynamite did shake the ground;
Echoed and re-echoed o'er and o'er,
Down the valley its thunderous roar.

Back among the distant hills
The tree bird by the evening chilled,
Looked out from underneath his wing
And saw the red lights softly gleam.

In the park they gathered, just down the street
And heard Ex-Governor Fernald speak.
I heard these words from some of the boys,
"We can't keep still there is so much noise."

The noise and din were in my ears,
The evening skies were rent with cheers,
We gave them three cheers you see
It was the Republican Victory.

KEZAR FALLS.

Drum Used at Bunker Hill.

Dr. S. A. McDaniel of Kezar Falls owns a fine snare drum, which is said to be in remarkably good condition at the present time, notwithstanding the fact that it is now 141 years of age. It is stated that the drum was used at the battle of Bunker Hill, June 17, 1775.

The drum was played by Major Eastman throughout the Revolution. After the war the major, with many other soldiers from Massachusetts, went to Maine. For many years the drum remained a treasured memento of his descendants. The present owner a quarter of a century ago was one of the most famous snare drummers of Boston and played with the leading musical organizations. He tired of the life and went to Maine, where he practices his profession of a veterinary surgeon.

Mr. McDaniel is also a doctor of medicine and practiced as such at one time. He also taught school in his section. He is one of the most widely known men in the part of Maine where he lives.

"Gets-It" Never Fails for Corns!

There's Nothing on Earth Like It For Corns and Calluses.

"Whenever you get corns and calluses, don't experiment — just use "GETS-IT" and nothing else. Easiest and simplest thing I know to use—just a few drops on in a few seconds—"GETS-IT" does the rest." The old way is to bundle up your toes in harnesses and bandages, use salves that make toes raw, cotton rings that make your corns pop-eyed, knives and "diggers" that tear your heart out and leave the corn in. No wonder they make you limp and wince. Forget all these—use "GETS-IT" the simplest corn remedy in the world, easiest to use, never falls or sticks, painless. Your corn loosens, then you lift it off. You can wear smaller shoes.

"GETS-IT" is sold and recommended by druggists everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price, by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Norway and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by F. P. Stone.

BIG BARN DOOR SKETCHES

Rambling and Wandering of Interest to the Writer and Perhaps Some Others.

Meredith Center, N. H., Aug., 1916.

You are not obliged to read this stuff if you don't want to. I feel that in the ten paged paper the office is sending out you are getting your money's worth in other things regardless of the space alloted me for entertainment and amusement.

Whitcher brook, near the burying ground would yield a string of trout each year. I got them too. Under and below the stone bridge I got them when a boy. The Hatch brook was no good. The Dolloff, Edgerly, Perkins and Cassie brooks yielded trout. The bay, (Winnesquam), Nigger Pond, (Wicwas), Kelley and Spec trout, perch, pickerel and eels. I visited them often and was rewarded with good catches.

The "Haith" had highbushed blueberries and an never ending depth of mud. Ottos lived there and I've heard them drum, sing and bark, but never saw one. I liked this place. It was dangerous and appealed to my fancy and at times I thought myself the hero of the great Perley Swamp, the other side of the road from Picked Hill Cove, going towards Second Division.

Those days and ambitions have past. I gaze from out the big doors and try to find interest in a spider's web nearly covering the end of the building.

Cassie brook was once "limed" and most of the trout killed. Thus said Zadoc Robinson, and he lived near the brook. I visited it with father and got a dozen nice trout from under the apron of the old dam, which had long ago washed out. Mr. Robinson expressed much surprise when we called at his well to get water on our return home.

It's better to give than to receive especially if it is castor oil.

When the North Church at Laconia, N. H., was being repaired and a very tall steeple put on it, I with C. E. Osgood, climbed to the top and I cut my mark "X" in the wooden ball in which sets the iron rod for the vane. This was on a moonlit evening in September 1871 or '72. I have never been so high above the earth since. This church has been moved from its old location at the corner of Main and Church streets into depot square. I wondered if the painters, who have been up there noticed my mark in the wooden ball. It always will be a satisfaction to think I got my "mark" so high up in the world. I seldom look at the church without thinking of it and telling my friends about it.

I served a voluntary sentence of two months on a farm, June 10th to August 10th, 1874. It was under Beech Hill and on the Moses Smith place. I hired out to Sam. Cram, who married one of Mr. Smith's daughters and was the active head of the place. I received $20.00 per month and board. It was the only 60 days I ever served. I was used well and had plenty of work and chores to do.

My first job was driving a yoke of oxen with logs slung on a pair of wheels to Hawkins' Mill at Slab City. I was a poor teamster but the old stags seemed to know the road and didn't need much teaming. The only difficulty was in getting them out of the road to let others pass.

Several pesser-bys left their wagons and took the goad and gee and hawed the cattle and load into the ditch so they could pass. They showed me, but somehow the oxen wouldn't mind and did about as they liked.

At the mill Mr. Hawkins would drive them around to where he wanted the logs dumped and explain how I should swing the goad and touch 'em up with the brad. I couldn't catch on and the oxen did about as they saw fit regardless of all language I used with the brandishing of the goadstick. I was not a success at summer log-hauling but kept at it until all the logs were landed in the mill yard. I was glad when it was finished. Mr. Cram helped me load and Mr. Hawkins assisted in unloading.

I was caught one day in a narrow road when a turnout had to be made. I used all my education, wits and stick-persuasion and the oxen would not leave the road.

A young woman was in the wagon. She got out and asked me to hold the horse and, taking the goad stick, she sailed into those cattle and they went to the ditch load and all and I lead the horse by. She was about to leave with the wagon when I suggested she better get the oxen and logs back into the road for me. She did it and in handing me back the goad stick, quietly said, "I should think you'd better learn how to drive cattle."

She left me with face wreathing in smiles. She was a daughter of the man I was working for, but I didn't know it at the time.

Good teeth, good digestion and a plenty of useful work, makes happiness. It can come in no other way. Money will not buy it.

When the Early Rose potatoes were first put on the market, father sent to James H. Gregory of Marblehead, Mass., and got a pound. He paid $3.00 and postage.

They were carefully planted and cared for and yielded a hundred and twenty fold. He sold some for seed the next spring for one dollar a pound and the balance he planted.

The variety of potatoes were ready to come to the table some fifteen or twenty minutes sooner in the season than the Early Whites we had been raising but our neighbors were willing to give three dollars a bushel for them where they could have got the Early Whites for less than a dollar a bushel.

The Early Rose was advertised in the agricultural papers and the Early Whites were not. Their eating and yielding qualities were about the same. You see it pays to advertise.

The second year I was allowed to plant a small patch of potatoes on my own account. I spaded up a small piece of land near where mother had her flower garden and raised over a bushel and got some money out of it.

In the spring of 1866—the year of the big Portland fire—we set out a row of pines near the house to break the driving blasts of the north-west winds. The "we" means father and I, the former did the work while I assisted in looking on and probably getting in the way. Every pine set out lived. Father said it was easy to transplant pasture pines and have them live. You want this year's growth started out one or two inches space round the tree and lift tree and soil. You must have sufficient earth clinging to the roots so the tree will stand upright.

The talked of "north and south cant" on a pine or any other tree father transplanted was all foolishness to him. The tree would live and thrive if it had plenty of fibrous roots regardless of the points of compass it originally had in the setting out of the trees.

This pine wind-break is now more than fifty feet high and is limbed pretty near down to the ground. I presume this is because they are in the sun. A Norway spruce is certainly 40 feet high and an arbor vita about the same. Both are limbed clear to the earth. They are so located as to be in the sun whenever it shines.

A belt of firs set out a year later have commenced dying. Two or three have died and been cut into stove-wood. A fir is not a long lifed tree.

This was the year Elder Sleeper died. He was the minister. I remember his long sickness in the parsonage and the sympathy and assistance rendered by the neighbors who took turns watching nights. Trained nurses were unknown to us in those days. Neighbors assisted and followed the instructions of the doctor as best they could.

I think it was one year earlier than this I attended Van Amberg's Golden Menagerie and Circus at Laconia. It got there in August and Uncle Sullivan took my sister and I to see it. I have never seen anything since half so magnificent and wonderful in this line. The performing elephant, roaring lion, clowns and riders still linger in memory. A man in the lion cage opened the monster's mouth and another man put his head in the mouth of the elephant and laid down and let the big brute walk over him. And such performing! Never anything like it since! Have seen a great many attempts in the past fifty years but never the equal of this show.

Van Amberg showed on Paris Hill that same year. They traveled the country with horses. They went from Laconia to Bristol, as I saw them pass through Meredith Center early the next morning. The distance being twenty-two miles.

When the 12th N. H. regiment came home (Concord), father and Uncle Sullivan were there to greet the returning boys and welcome them back. This was in June, 1865. I wanted to go but could not.

I remember seeing members of Co. I, of the 12th regiment drilling at Meredith Center before going to the war. The fife and drum beat and I was hanging to grandmother's skirts asking what it meant. She said there was a war way off somewhere and "the boys" were going there to fight and kill other men. I couldn't understand it, as to kill a man was an awful sin and here were these men with guns and bayonets and swords going to shoot down and kill others who were way off somewhere.

In my childish way I questioned the right they had to do such a thing, but grandmama told me they had because the Government gave them the right. I couldn't understand that either as I had been taught it was wrong to kill.

Every one in the company was gay and happy and looked so pretty in their uniforms with shining guns I wished I was old enough to go.

In the four following years I got all the horrors of war I wanted. It has lasted me a life time. The home suffering, sorrows, weeping and wailing, funerals, widows and orphans make me quail even now and brings tears to my eyes while writing this, after a lapse of more than half a century.

I have seen strong men wring their hands in anguish, and mothers and children cry when the news after a battle was read in the postoffice.

I have seen the tearing up of bed sheets, scraping of lint and bandage-making when wet with the tears of the workers.

I have seen the gathering up of good things, mittens and socks and medicine to be sent to the boys at the front and in the hospital.

I have seen the wasted forms and crippled men and have followed in funeral processions with playmates whose fathers and brothers were laid to rest in unmarked trenches and unknown graves.

I have heard the prayers of mothers and fathers and seen the weeping of widows and orphans and have felt the homeshock of battle at Meredith Center, N. H. hundreds of miles away from the roar of cannon and the sound of musketry.

I want no more of it.

I'd prefer peace at most any price than live and suffer through it again. There are others who feel as I do but dare not publicly say so—for fear of being called cowardly unpatriotic.

The present wave of street-parade preparedness, called patriotism, now sweeping over the country is popular with those under sixty years of age who have never felt the homeshock of battle and seen at first-hands the suffering, misery and desolation of real war. This popular outburst should be handled with care and caution. It's dangerous.

Family burying grounds are numerous. Each farm of respectability had one and many of them are now overgrown with bushes and trees.

I became lost on a strange road a few years ago but got my bearings and whereabouts from a bush-grown deserted yard. No house was in sight. The trees in it were several inches in diameter and there rested several generations of Foxes.

I knew the Fox family originated on Meredith Hill, Second Division, and I presumed some lived there then, but on inquiring I found all the living ones had fled. Where, I do not know.

All things come, even death, unto those who wait. I'm waiting and hoping to escape.

F. W. Sanborn.

OXFORD

Hall-Whyte

A fall wedding of unusual beauty took place Wednesday evening at the Congregational church when Oena May Whyte niece of John Robinson and Louisa Richmond was united in marriage to Ray Philip Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Hall of Oxford.

The marriage took place at 8 o'clock, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Frederick Newport, pastor of the Congregational church at Turner. The church was prettily decorated with ferns, palms, evergreen, autumn leaves, hydrangeas and fall flowers. The decorations were in charge of Mrs. C. F. Starbird.

The bride was handsomely gowned in a dress of Duchess satin, hand embroidered with a court train. The wedding veil was in cap effect with Duchess lace and caught with orange blossoms. The bride was given away by her uncle, John Robinson. The matron of honor was Mrs. John L. Dyer of Houlton, the best man, Harold Hall, a brother of the groom; the bride's maids were Marion Hall, Nellie Hayes and Ida Stone. The matron of honor, Mrs. Dyer, was gowned in blue crepe meteor silver garniture with pan velvet hat with pink ostrich plumes. She wore silver slippers and carried pink roses with blue forget-me-nots.

The bride's maids wore pink crepe meteor with silver garniture, pink pan velvet hats with silver trimmings and wore silver slippers, and each carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Constance Rundlett acted as flower girl and carried a basket of sweet heart roses. The ring bearer was Gordon Hayes.

The ushers were Arthur Hayes, Elsworth Rundlett, Dean Thomas and Avery French. The wedding march was played by Mr. Crafts of Portland, the organist at the State street church.

The groom's gift to the bride was a diamond sapphire pendent; the groom's gift to the best man was a set of cuff links and his gift to the ushers was a set of cuff links and stick pins. The bride's gift to the matron of honor and bride's maids was a bar pin with pearls, to the flower girl, a string of gold beads and to the ring bearer a gold ring.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride. The young couple received a large number of guests, assisted by J. B. Robinson uncle of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Hall, parents of the groom, and Mrs. Louisa Richmond, aunt of the bride. The gifts included a large variety of linen, cut glass and silver.

In the receiving line with the young couple were Mr. and Mrs. John P. Hall, parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Robinson and Mrs. Louisa Richmond, uncle and aunt of the bride. The house was decorated with smilax gladiolas, ferns, boxwood and cut flowers.

The couple made their escape to parts unknown at about 11 P. M. amid a shower of confetti. It is supposed they stayed round near here for they passed through Welchville Thursday. The couple will reside in the South with a summer home in Oxford. Forty years ago there was a wedding in the church when the Rev. George A. Lockwood and Mary Hall were united in marriage. That this couple may enjoy the same happy life is the wish of their many friends.

Refreshments, in charge of caterer Grant of Lewiston, were served to a number of relatives, the bridal party and friends. The bride was given a shower Sept. 13, and on Tuesday evening a banquet was given the maids and matron at Hubbard House, Paris Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Hall will spend the winter in the South.

Among out of town guests present at the wedding were: Mrs. Ida Pollock, Alfred; Mrs. William Laben, Bisbee, Arizona; Eva Smith, Lawrence, Mass.; Grace Searles, Whitinsville, Mass.; Mrs. Luther Tanner, Whitinsville, Mass.; Mrs. Francis Andrews, Mrs. Lina Carr, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Rundlett, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Wyer of Portland; Leuit. and Mrs. Avery French of Fort McKinley, Constance Rundlett and Ellsworth Rundlett, jr., Portland; Mrs. Frederick Newport, Jessie Newport of Turner; Mrs. Francis Thompson, Cumberland; Mrs. Edgar Merrill, Woodfords; Mrs. Mabel Dow, Mrs. Octavia Dow, Edith Dow, Mrs. F. L. Dellow, Mr. W. E. Dow, E. F. Dow and Hilda Dow of Falmouth.

Nasturtium seeds are an excellent substitute for capers when added to sauce, so it seems a pity that we do not make more use of them for there is hardly a garden or even a city yard where they do not show their glowing gold and brown faces. The keeping is very easily accomplished, for all you need to do is to gather them when ripe and put them in a jar with white vinegar; no spices are needed nor need the vinegar be even boiled.

WORLD'S FAIR

Fine Weather, Large Crowd, and Good Time for All

The annual World's Fair at North Waterford was held Friday and Saturday, Sept. 29 and 30. The weather Friday morning looked a little threatening but in the course of the forenoon it burned away and the day was an ideal fall day.

On Friday there was about the usual number of people in attendance as is customary for the first day of fair.

The World's Fair has not lost any of its hospitality of former years. People come from far and near to meet friends and spend a social day with acquaintances of former years as is often the case The fair is looked forward to with much interest by the people of North Waterford who are always glad to welcome the people from the surrounding towns and entertain large numbers of friends during the fair.

Grange Exhibits

The schoolhouse held the exhibits of fancy work and vegetables. The upper room was devoted to the grange exhibits and two granges had displays. The No. Waterford grange and Round Mountain Grange of Albany. There was a large lot of fancy articles exhibited by the ladies of the grange as well as a large variety of vegetables, fruit and canned goods. Among the exhibitors were Annie B. Hazelton, who showed a large variety of fancy articles, among them was a large center piece, embroidered with sprays of pink, green and white, with deep lace; a pair of crocheted slippers, red and green; a square crocheted center piece; a blue crocheted bag; piece of light blue crocheted lace with flower design; a pineapple design doily; a match safe with crocheted cover; a pastel view of a brook in green and gray; a drawn rug with rose center; four drawn rugs with gray backgrounds, with bouquet in the center, and a number of crocheted doilies.

Rilla Marston had an initial guest towel, and a number of fancy articles.

A. H. Whitehouse of Bridgton had a trace of green corn.

Mrs. Alice Freelove of North Bridgton occupied a portion of the school room with her display of fall and winter millinery, which found ready sale.

About The Grounds

There was the usual large crowd in attendance Saturday, and more than 600 automobiles were packed in the different door yards, near the hall and by the meeting house. There were also large numbers of teams in the different stables.

There were not as many fakirs as usual on the grounds, but there was enough to make a real lively midway and plenty of places where the shekels readily changed hands. The principal attraction was the merry-go-round and was well patronized by young and old. To the boys and girls especially, there is no such fun as a ride on the flying horses. The merry-go-round was the property of Linwood Flint.

Along the midway were booths where frankforts were in great demand; another tent sold hot rolls, fried hamberg steak and onions, the savor of which penetrated the midway for many rods. At another booth was a lucky ball rolling device and the lucky number drew a watch or a clock. Mlle. Nina, the fortune teller, dealt out knowledge of the future to the curious, whose ambitious desires demand such knowledge in advance. There were five or six tents where souvenirs of flags, pins, rings, watches and trinkets of all sorts were disposed of.

An interesting auto along the midway was the "Bridge of Bridgton" popcorn auto. They kept the kernels bursting all day and disposed of a goodly amount. Palmistry also was represented in a small red tent. The dancing girl was there, one who was famous and who was so "charming" that you left all behind you when you entered this tent, here you will be transferred into the oriental world," so said the "keeper."

Another novel feature was a traveling millinery display along the midway and for this purpose an auto had been converted into a millinery store. Fruit in great variety was on sale at many points on the grounds by dealers from many of the nearby towns and cities, among them were the Twitchells of Oxford. As is expected, there were teddy bears on sale, bowling alleys to test the skill and ice cream booths to please the palate.

Near the entrance of the midway the North Waterford Grange served a fine oyster stew dinner and did very well financially. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Allen were in charge.

At the church vestry an excellent dinner of baked beans, brownbread, cold meat, hot coffee and all kinds of pies and cakes were served. The dinners were in charge of all the ladies of the church and parish and they had their usual rush of business.

The only exhibit of poultry was shown by Mrs. J. C. Grover, who had a pair of Seabrite Bantams and six bantam chicks. She also had a pen of 3-year-old geese and 4 goslins.

Cattle Department

The cattle department was located on the west side of the church by the road and a number of yoke of cattle were on exhibition.

W. H. Chadburn won 1, 2, and 3, $1.20, .60, .60 with his three pair of large oxen for work oxen.

E. B. Hersey had a pair of Jersey bull calves, a pair of steer calves, a pair of 2-year-olds for drawing purposes, and won 1st and 3rd on Jersey calves, $.75 and .25.

Fair Notes

Arrests for drunkenness are seldom made at this fair. The officers have short trace chains and padlocks and when an auto visitor gets over-gay they lock the wheels of his chariot. If he gets ugly over this little indignity his pockets are searched for matches, knives, liquor and other dangerous implements and he is locked in a box stall and allowed to rest in the straw and plan out his future campaign of reform or revenge as he sees fit.

Linwood Flint, the porcupine King owns and operates the merry-go-round. A cattle show without its sweet music and the happy laugh of its patrons would be dull indeed.

The family who live oposite the Elliott and Bartlett steam mill at Lynchville have put in two good looking field-rock cement posts to keep you off the well kept lawn. They were putting on the finishing touches last Friday.

Milliken's orchestra of Norway furnished music for dancing afternoons and evenings at I. O. O. F. hall and there was a chance to see the moving pictures between times in the same hall.

EAST OXFORD

C. H. Flood was in this place Monday, picking his apples in the McKeen pasture.

Mrs. Carrie Noble, who has been staying at her home for two weeks past, has returned to Geo. Wilder's.

Mrs. Mary E. Greely visited in Yarmouth and Cumberland for three weeks. She made the journey and returned by auto through the kindness of relatives.

Stanley L. Pratt and wife attended the Andover fair and were away several days on the trip in the interest of his business.

Dr. Geo. L. Vogel, noted specialist for the eye, ear and throat, of Boston, visited at B. M. Greeley's the last of the week. He had been staying at Intervale, N. H., for a few days' vacation.

Mrs. Georgia Whitman and Mrs. Emma Whitman, Fred Whitman and his children, Arthur and Hazel of Bryant's Pond, visited at Geo. E. Brown's, Sunday. They also called on Jacob Whitman at Welchville.

A Distinctive Reason

What is the chief reason for the superiority of Royal Baking Powder?

There are several good reasons, but there is one which distinguishes Royal from other baking powders.

This reason, which every woman should know, is that Royal Baking Powder is made from cream of tartar, which comes from grapes. This means a healthful fruit origin. It means natural food as distinguished from mineral substitutes used in other baking powders.

There is no alum nor phosphate in Royal Baking Powder.

Reception to School Teachers

The reception to the school teachers held Monday evening in Centennial Hall under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. was a decided social success. The hall was prettily decorated with hydrangias and green foliage across the front of the stage and a tall basket-like piece in the center of the hall. Large and small rugs covered the floor and a dozen or more small tables covered with large doilies were arranged on either side. The receiving line was arranged with Mrs. Ella M. Bates, president of the local W. C. T. U. and her husband, L. C. Bates, Rev. and Mrs. L. W. Grundy and the five teachers, respectively by commencing with the Principal, Dana J. Wall, Assistant, Fannie P. Flint, Grammar, May Curran, Intermediate, Ruth Carter, Primary, Ethel Spiller. Four of the younger W. C. T. U. members, Mrs. Coburn, Mrs. Brock, Mrs. Patch and Mrs. Wardwell acted as ushers. The following program was carried out aftersome necessary omissions were made.

A four piece orchestra composed of Grace Dean, violinist; Wiliam Cote, cornetist; Rae Newton, flutist, from South Paris, with Azola Pike, pianist from Norway, played during the introductions and then:

Welcome from the W. C. T. U.....Mrs. Bates
Welcome from Schools.....
Olga McKeen, Henry Briggs, Lucy Edwards
Music.....High School Quartette
Welcome from the Churches....Rev. Grundy
Instrumental music.....Everett Harmon, a blind pianist and tuner from Milford, Mass.
Solo, "Mother McCree," encore, "Baby's Boat".....Alice Barden
Response from the teachers.....Miss Wall
Orchestra.

The addresses of welcome were all heartily and beautifully given. Miss Wall's response for the teachers was a review of the various things for improvment that they had undertaken during her past two years in the school and her thankfulness for the help and support in various ways both collectively and personally, which they had received, the play grounds and games, the prize speaking the piano and the four years' course, and she solicited further support from the parents and citizens for other equipment as might be needed for the two years added and the finishing of the four years' courses.

Mr. Harmon was especially applauded for his music, a wonderful performance from any one and especially one who is blind. He was called back for a second piece.

Miss Barden too is always appreciated by her own home people as was also the orchestra that played so beautifully and without stint during the opening and close of the evening's entertainment.

Refreshments of hot cocoa and fancy crackers were served in dainty cups by the ushers. Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Ball did much toward the evening's success by way of arrangement, decorations and everything in general.

A young partridge in making its flight across the river flew against the dining room window through the screen and closed window into the dining room of S. T. White's home, bringing thousands of splinters of glass all over the floor. All this actually happened last week about seven o'clock Wednesday morning. The poor bird was unharmed through its transaction except by fright and it was some startling to Mr. and Mrs. White, who were in the kitchen adjoining. It sounded as though the china closet and chimney too were being crushed. The bird was killed and cooked and a good meal was enjoyed for the damage it had done.

Several from here attended the Sunday School Convention at South Paris last week.

Rev. J. B. Coy, Baptist State Missionary from Harrison was here over one day last week in the interest of the church repairs. He will be here again and supply on Sunday, October 15, while Rev. S. A. Robinson takes a much needed two weeks' vacation.

Grange Meeting

At the regular meeting Oct. 14, the Grange will have the following program:

Singing.....Grange
Question—In what way can we assist our grand service committee that will secure greater benefits for the farmer?
Recitation.....Mrs. Ellen Hammond
Reading from National Grange Monthly.....Mrs. D. A. Ball
Music.....Young ladies of the Grange

A number of our people attended the Waterford fair, also Andover.

C. L. Ridlon and wife, Alice Penley and Mrs. L. H. Penley took a trip by auto to St. Johnsbury, Vt., Tuesday.

Rev. Sarah A. Robinson attended the United Baptist State Convention at Portland, going Monday, and will return Friday.

Mrs. D. A. Ball and Misses Delia and Minnie Lane attended the state W. C. T. U. Convention at Lewiston.

Mrs. A. K. Shurtleff of South Paris visited her parents here a few days last week.

HARBOR.

Stanley-Hacker

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Stanley and son Stewart attended the wedding of their oldest son, Dr. O. H. Stanley and Beatrice Hacker at Brunswick, Sept. 27.

The ceremony was at the Hacker house and was very pretty, the double ring service being performed by President Hyde of Bowdoin College. The wedding march was played by Miss A. Stetson, violin and Robert Stetson, piano. The bride accompanied by her father and Edith Weatherill, as maid of honor, came down the stairs, passed into the study where they were met by the groom and Edward Hacker as best man.

The wedding ceremony was performed in a bower of palms and ferns.

The bride wore a gown of Liberty white satin with Spanish lace and tulle trimmings. Her veil was caught with a bunch of lilies of the valley and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses.

The gown of the maid of honor was of blue taffeta draped over white net and caught with pink roses. The ceremony was followed by a wedding breakfast. Dr. and Mrs. Stanley left at once for Washington, D. C. (amid a shower of confetti) in which city the doctor is stationed in the Medical Corps of the Army.

John Gray has torn down and built over a chimney.

John Hall has torn down his kitchen chimney and will make other repairs.

Alice and Ida Benson have returned to their home in Haverhill, Mass.

Ross Day and friend have been guests at C. W. Farrington's during the fair.

Rev. Souther preached at the church Sunday morning.

Dr. O. A. Stanley spent his vacation with his parents here.

Henry Edgerley is spending his vacation with his cousin, Mrs. H. Hurd and other relatives here, as is his usual custom.

Harold Peaco of Otisfield, is visiting with his aunt, Mrs. Everett Staples.

Charles Sanborn died at his home, Wednesday night after an illness of several weeks. Funeral services were held at the home, Saturday afternoon at one o'clock and burial took place in Pine Grove cemetery at East Otisfield.

The Ladies' Circle was held at the vestry, Wednesday night. They intend giving their annual harvest supper in the near future.

There is to be a fair at the Grange hall Thursday, October 12th.

A dance will be held at the Grange hall, October 14th. Ladies' Orchestra will furnish music.

USELESS

A certain doctor in northern Maine is noted for his love of gunning. An epidemic broke out among the men employed by a well-known lumberman, since dead, and as one of them seemed to be in a dangerous condition the lumberman set off in haste for the doctor.

The medical man was distressingly moderate in his preparations, and the nervous lumberman, sitting in his wagon outside grew more and more impatient. Suddenly it occurred to the physician that as he was going so far into the woods he might see some game. He stepped to the door, therefore, and called out:

"Say, don't you think I'd better take my gun along?"

"Gun?" was the answer in a tone of intense disgust. "No, indeed. At this rate, the man will be dead long before you get there."

Oxford Pomona Grange

Oxford Pomona Grange met with Round Mountain Grange, Albany, on Tuesday, October 3, with over 200 in attendance. The meeting was called to order by Worthy Master L. E. McIntire. All officers present but Assistant Steward, Gate Keeper and Treasurer. The chairs were filled by brothers Charles Morey, Arthur Buck, respectively, and the work of the day was taken up.

After a welcome song by Round Mt. Grange choir, several matters of importance were discussed and decisions reached in regard to the best interests of the Order.

A recess was declared for dinner and such a feast as was spread before the patrons! Part of the crowd were served in the church vestry and the remainder in the new dining room of the hall, which they are equipping as fast as possible.

At 1:30 p. m. Worthy Master L. E. McIntire again called the meeting to order as open to the public, and many were there to enjoy the fine program presented by Worthy Lecturer Harold Pike, as follows:

Song.....Round Mt. Grange Choir
Reading.....Mrs. Mary Bartlett
Vocal solo.....Maud Bean
Music.....
Hazel Wardwell piano, Cecil Kimball violin
Address.....Mrs. Bertha Kennerson
Piano solo.....Hazel Wardwell
An original paper—Life on the farm by Allen Cummings, read by Alta Cummings, Lecturer of Round Mt. Grange.
Song.....Round Mt. Grange choir
Story.....Brother A. E. Morse
Remarks.....J. S. Brown

This closed an interesting program. Meeting was again opened in the fifth degree and work resumed. Remarks of importance and several grange issues were made by Worthy Master L. E. McIntire, Bros. Webb of Yarmouth Grange, Hall of Mountain Grange, Perham of Franklin Grange, Hon. J. A. Roberts of Norway, Prof. Geo. Yeaton, R. L. Cummings, A. M. Ryerson and Sister Pauline Mason. The session was one of the best, a day of pleasure and of exceeding profit to the Oxford Pomona Grange.

Fourteen granges were represented. The next meeting will be held with Lakeside Grange, Harrison, on October 31st.

The Chapman Sisters In Town.

The well known Chapman Sisters of Portland are at Olive Woodsum's for a brief stay. Grace, Gladys and Dorothy Chapman, with Baby Bertie, 3 years of age, need no introduction to the local play goers, as they have demonstrated their ability as singers, dancers, readers and novelty entertainers.

During the summer season the company played the White Mountain resorts as an independent attraction and are waiting in town for their winter time, which commences later this month.

This versatile troop are strong entertainers at lodges and house parties, having great favorites in New York City and about their home town. Probably the feature attraction with the girls is Bertie, a cunning miss, who is so clever in little folk dances. Gladys Chapman started for New York Tuesday to fill engagements.
